

Hundreds of Lives in Peril

MANY PEOPLE MAROONED IN THE FLOODED DISTRICT

Boats are Needed in Inundated Districts in Mississippi to Rescue the Inhabitants—Agricultural Loss is Estimated at About $8,500,000

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 7.—Unsettled boats are hurried to remote sections of the inundated country in Pointe Coupee parish it is feared that hundreds of persons will perish. Word was received in Morganzee that great numbers of people are still marooned near Torass. Stories of awful suffering among flood refugees reached here today.

Unofficial estimates today place the agricultural loss from the flood in Louisiana at eight and one-half million dollars. Eight hundred and seventy-five square miles of the state have been inundated. There has been considerable loss of life.

Hundreds of people living in the back country of Louisiana received no warning of the flood until the torrent swept upon them. They took refuge on house-tops and trees and on rafts and now for several days they have been without adequate food and shelter from the heavy rains. Scores of people who were brought to Morganzee in the relief boats early today say that there are hundreds more to be taken from their flood prisons. The majority of these people lived so far in the country that couriers did not reach them. Or, in many instances if they were warned they scoffed at the advice to leave.

The levee above Morganzee is lined with their few belongings, waiting to be taken to concentration camps. About 200 were removed last night to New Roads, where they were fed, then transferred to Baton Rouge.

Two hundred negroes rescued near Batcher were brought here today on a government barge. They were later sent to New Roads. Fifty white people quarantined at Batcher will be brought here today. The work of carrying the new experiments to the comfort of its depositors and others of their kind.

INHABITANTS IN DANGER NEW ROADS, La., May 7.—The water from the Torass crevasse was rising so rapidly over the country south of there early today that hundreds of people were in imminent danger of losing their lives, according to information reaching here. The small relief parties cannot get the inhabitants out fast enough.

THOUSANDS RESCUED VICKSBURG, Miss., May 7.—Fifteen thousand persons, driven from their homes by the rapidly spreading water coming through the crevasse at Torass, already have been rescued and several thousand others are in peril, according to reports to Major Norrby, in charge of the government relief headquarters here.

STRENGTHENING THE DIKES NEW ORLEANS, May 7.—Citizens in the flood menaced districts of New Orleans were cheered today by a bulletin issued by the weather bureau which lowered its previous estimates of the maximum flood stages that the Crescent City must fight. The army of men working to strengthen the dikes will not cease their vigilance, however.

Conditions along the Black and Tensas rivers are reported to be distressing.

MISS RICHESON APPEALS TO GOV. FOSS IN HER BROTHER'S BEHALF

BOSTON, May 7.—Miss L. V. Richeson, a sister of Clarence V. Richeson, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Miss Avis Linnell, talked with Gov. Foss at the state house today in behalf of her brother. William A. Morse and Philip R. Dunbar of her brother's counsel accompanied Miss Richeson into the executive chamber. It was said that they were to talk over the plea which has been made for commutation of the death sentence on the ground that the former clerkman is of unsound mind and has been so always. The visitors were closeted with Gov. Foss only a short time.

Miss Richeson visited her brother in the Charles street jail previous to calling upon the governor. She talked with the condemned man for some time.

Miss Richeson arrived in this city from the Richeson home in Virginia last night.

GREEKS LEAVE WORK IN MERRIMACK MILLS

Say They Want Pay for Overtime

THEY WORKED PART OF THE NOON HOUR

Agent Wadleigh Makes a Statement

A few more employees of the Merrimack mill today joined the ranks of the forty employees who were locked out of the mill yesterday at 1 o'clock. According to the strikers their committee went to the mill officials this morning and wanted the grievance adjusted. When the latter refused to do so other employees came out. They went to the headquarters of the Industrial Workers and stated their case and a meeting of all the employees of the mill has been called for tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

At the meeting tonight, Dr. Demopoulos will speak and tell him people to join the organization. While the meeting tonight will be for all the employees of the Merrimack mills, the doctor stated that the Greeks in the other mills will also be told to enroll in the I. W. W.

Dr. Demopoulos said: "It will be an easy matter, as during the strike my great trouble was to keep them out of the organization. I did not want them to become members. Now they are back at work, and when they go and report grievances, the mill officials will not listen to their claims. I do not think this treatment is fair. I did all I could to keep them out of trouble and to keep them away from the mills during the trouble and this is the treatment that they are receiving."

"I advised them to keep away because I know they are excitable people, but when I see that they do not get what the other nationalities receive I think it is only right to allow them to affiliate themselves with the society. The Merrimack is not the only mill where this treatment of the Greeks prevails as men from other places have made complaints. In the future all grievances will be settled at the rooms of the organization as they are now members and no more meetings will be held in the Greek school."

At the meeting tonight, it is said, action will be taken on the report of the committee that called on the mill men this morning and the officials of the Industrial Workers say that if matters are not satisfactorily adjusted all the members of the I. W. W. will be called out tomorrow morning.

Mr. Wadleigh's Statement

Mr. Wadleigh in conversation with a Sun reporter today said that all print works and all dye works so far as he knows work through the noon hour for the reason that certain processes in the dyeing will spoil and entail considerable loss if neglected or held up for an hour.

The Greeks in a certain portion of the printing department were asked to work during the noon hour with but twenty minutes for dinner. This they refused to do except they received extra pay for overtime. But this was not overtime as they were to work but 54 hours a week. They were told when they protested against working during the noon hour that if they did not return as requested, their places would be filled.

They did not return and to save the stock that required prompt attention other men were put in their places. That's all there is to it. We would like to give them the entire noon hour if we could but we were paying them for a full hour while they worked but two-thirds of an hour. That was all we could do."

AN ADDITION TO GREENHALGE SCHOOL

THE GREENHALGE SCHOOL

To be Asked for by Residents of West Centralville Who Say That the School is Overcrowded at the Present Time

The residents of West Centralville are starting a movement for an addition to the Greenhalge grammar school in Ennell street. The school is practically too small for the large number of pupils who desire to attend class there, and it is said many are being turned away every day for lack of room. This question was brought before the public by Principal Wood at the annual banquet of Hose Co. No. 12 last December, when he spoke on the welfare of that part of the city. Mr. Wood at that time said the building was not large enough for its needs, and that four more rooms were required. The school now has 10 class rooms with an attendance of nearly 500 boys and girls. All the grades but the highest are overcrowded and many pupils are being constantly refused for lack of room. The building, it is said, was built in a way that additional classes can be put on easily, and there is plenty of land to answer that purpose.

There is only one other school in that district and that is St. Louis' parochial school, which is also inadequate for the large number of pupils, and the residents of that section feel that they ought to be given as good school accommodation as in any other part of the city, and therefore they are going to circulate a petition among the voters of the district in order to learn public sentiment in regard to enlarging the school. They feel that they are not asking too much for the number of children is increasing every day, and the latter cannot afford to go across the river to school, which is being done in many cases.

LOWELL MAN ARRESTED UNDER WHITE SLAVE LAW

It is Alleged That He Deserted Young Woman and Her Child in Chicago

Leonidas Llapas, formerly a Greek resident of Lowell, was brought to Boston yesterday from Peoria, Ill., to answer a charge of violating the white slave law in connection with the courtship and alleged desertion of Marianna Bacos, a mill girl of Lowell. Llapas, it is charged, induced the girl to go to Chicago for the purpose of getting married. Out of $100 which she had in the bank in Lowell, she drew $250 and went to Chicago, Llapas, it is charged, kept postponing the ceremony. Later they removed to Milwaukee where a child was born yesterday.

As soon as the mother was able to leave the hospital, Llapas, it is charged, took her to Chicago on the pretense of securing clothes for the baby and there placed her on an east-bound train with a ticket to Lowell and $1 bill in her hand. That is the story of the alleged white slave case. Llapas is charged with the purpose of last the young woman saw of Llapas getting married. Out of $100 which she had in the bank in Lowell, she drew $250 and went to Chicago, Llapas, it is charged, kept postponing the ceremony. Later they removed to Milwaukee where a child was born yesterday.

BULK OF THE ASTOR MILLIONS

Left by Late John Jacob Astor to His Son Vincent

NEW YORK, May 7.—(Continued from page 1.) The family made public last night the will of John Jacob Astor, as drawn in this city last September, only a few days after his marriage to Miss Madeleine Talmage Force and approximately seven months before he perished with the sinking of the Titanic.

Vincent Astor, a son, who will come of age within the year, is made the principal beneficiary and residuary legatee. Nothing as to the value of the great estate is given, and by the creation of trust funds the testator has followed as far as possible the custom of his forefathers in keeping the vast Astor real estate holdings intact.

Valuations of the estate run anywhere from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000. A close friend of the family said last night that in his opinion the smaller figure was nearer the proper estimate. Aside from provisions for Vincent Astor, the will provides for incondi-tional bequests of only $25,000. Among these there is not one of a charitable nature. This is $10,000 to St. Paul's school at Concord, N. H., the remainder of the bequest to be divided among friends and relatives.

Nearly all the other provisions of the will, as made public last night, are the most typical of a man who has lived in the city of New York. The will provides for the education of Vincent Astor, the child of his first wife, Ava Willing Astor, and $25,000 for the education of his daughter, the expected posthumous child of the present union. This last clause provides for "each child who shall survive the testator other than his son, William Vincent, and his daughter, Ava Alice Muriel."

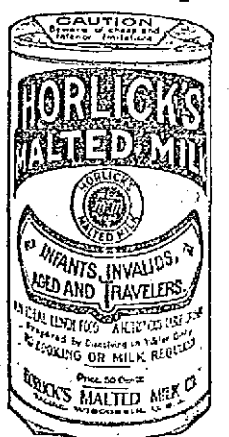

No provision whatsoever is made for the wife who divorced him. The young widow does not marry again, the $25,000 trust fund and the town house and other property left to her

LINEN DEPARTMENT

GREEK EMPLOYEES TO JOIN THE I. W. W.

Big Meeting to be Held This Evening

The employees who were locked out of the Merrimack mills at 1 o'clock yesterday, who were mostly Greeks, went to the office of Dr. Geo. Demopoulos and asked for advice. He asked what the trouble was and they told him, as was stated in yesterday's Sun. They said that the mill men discriminated against them. The doctor said that he thought that this treatment was an injustice. "In the strike," he said, "I advised the Greeks to keep away from the picket line and also the I. W. W. This I think was beneficial to the mill. Now when the strike is over, the Greeks are being imposed upon. Well, they will not be, for I will advise them to become members of the I. W. W."

"I think," the speaker continued, "that the people of the city fully realize the conditions and will not place any blame upon my shoulders. I worked hard to keep the Greeks in order during the time that they were out of work. They did well, according to the papers and all the people I have talked with. Now, as I have not the time to give to the situation, I will turn them over to the I. W. W. and will also join it myself."

True to his statement, all who were out went to the headquarters of the I. W. W. last evening and became members, as did the doctor.

A SAFE EASY WAY TO GAIN FLESH QUICKLY

Amazing Increase in Weight Brought by Physicians' Fortunate Discovery

Medical men, everywhere, have been commenting upon the remarkable experience of a well-known physician, that was recently recorded in a prominent medical publication. By administering a combination of standard, harmless pharmaceutical drugs in a manner he had never used before, Dr. Horace Edwards succeeded in increasing a patient's weight from 111 to 157 pounds in ten weeks—a clear gain of 46 pounds or nearly 4½ lbs. a week. A large number of experiments both by physicians and thin people who desired to put on flesh quickly, followed the publication of this case report, and have brought most remarkable results, indicating that a judicious combination of Fluid Salto-gyn, Calisaya and Cardamoms will in practically any case enable a person to gain flesh at the rate of 3 to 5 lbs. a week. The exact prescription used and recommended by Dr. Edwards was 2 oz. of Calisaya, 2 oz. Fluid Salto-gyn and 2 oz. water—all easily obtainable at night apothecaries from any druggist. Directions: Ask the druggist to mix all the ingredients except the Salto-gyn in an 8 oz. bottle and give you one Salto-gyn separately. When you get home add half the Salto-gyn. After taking three doses pour in the remainder of the Salto-gyn and continue taking as before. Dose: Two or three spoonfuls twenty minutes before meals. The resulting increase in weight can easily be checked when the patient desires by merely stopping the treatment. Calisaya, Cardamoms and Salto-gyn are all standard drugs regularly carried in stock by the best druggists of every city. One Dr. H. & L. Lyon, states that probably not a day goes by that they are not called upon to fill prescriptions containing these ingredients. Concerning their use a well-known medical man says: "Although as every physician knows, the above drugs are splendid for relieving indigestion, nervousness, catarrh, etc., they should never be used for these purposes in the combination outlined above except where the patient also wishes to increase in weight."

HAS DAY OF REST

Received Many Friends in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, May 7.—President Taft, for the first time in several weeks today cast aside the cares of office and worries of the political stamp and enjoyed a day of recreation and rest. A diversified program had been mapped out for him, official business having no place on it.

In the morning the president held an informal reception for his many friends made during his period of residence here.

In the afternoon the chief executive planned to occupy a box at the Cincinnati-Philadelphia baseball game.

This evening Mr. Taft will attend the opening of the Cincinnati May musical festival. While it is the custom of both himself and Mrs. Taft to remain through the musical season he will be able to attend only on the opening night, the political campaign through Ohio necessitating the ending short of his stay here. Mrs. Taft, however, will remain to the end of the festival.

INSANE MAN USED GUN IN ATTACK ON SERVANT

Tragedy Averted at Dover, N. H., by Unsteadiness of the Infuriated Man

DOVER, N. H., May 7.—A near tragedy at the hands of an insane man, Edward P. Kennard, formerly of Boston, occurred at the "Old Homestead" on the Dover Point road, where Kennard resides Sunday afternoon. With a revolver which John Roach, a servant, had just cleaned and loaded at Kennard's order, Kennard opened fire on Roach with the remark, "It goes all right, doesn't it?"

Two shots were fired at Roach and only Kennard's unsteadiness of aim saved Roach from being hit. A bullet grazed one of Roach's legs.

Roach and the housemaid as soon as the firing began fled to the house of Charles S. Roberts. He and another neighbor telephoned for the police.

City Marshal Adams lost no time in getting a warrant ready and starting for Kennard's place in an automobile

WEAVERS ON PARADE AT CLINTON TODAY

They Threaten to Extend the Strike

CLINTON, May 7.—After picketing the gates of the Lancaster Gingham mills today 200 of the striking weavers paraded by other local factories in an attempt to spread the strike among the employees of the various mills. The parade carried a big bass drum and the notes of a bugle also attracted attention to the marchers more than half of whom were women or girls. The leaders of the I. W. O., who are in charge of the strike, have announced their intention of spreading the strike to the other factories in town if the trouble at the Lancaster mills is not adjusted before the end of the present week.

Today was pay day at the mills and the workers came to the mills to receive their envelopes.

WILL OBSERVE PEACE DAY MAY 18 IS A NOTABLE DATE

The Anniversary of the First International Peace Conference Will be Widely Observed in the Schools of This City

A sufficient number of copies of Peace Day suggestions and material for its observance in the schools to supply all the schools in Lowell have been received by Sup't. Whitcomb and they will be of great assistance to teachers in preparing programs for the day.

It was in 1864 that Dr. Elmer E. F. Smith, commissioner of education, recommended that the 18th day of May, the anniversary of the assembling of the First Peace conference at The Hague, should be observed as Peace Day in the schools.

One of the most effective ways of fixing the attention of the children and making lasting impressions on their minds is through well arranged and attractive programs for days set apart for special purposes and to offer assistance to teachers and others in the formulation of the program of education.

The Young Queen's Invitation

The young queen, who was then only 18 years old, to show her appreciation of the honor conferred upon her country, and of the deep meaning of the conference, placed at its disposal the most beautiful and historical building in the land. The conference was therefore held in this royal family house in the woods, formerly the summer residence of the royal family, situated in a very beautiful park about a mile from the city.

This was a most remarkable gathering, for each nation had sent its greatest statesmen. Then, too, it was the first time in the world's history that a peace conference had been held by the nations.

Choosing an Umpire

The key to the whole subject, and that which became the most important part of the program, is how to end a dispute before war begins. Many settled without war by calling in a third party, just as an umpire on the ball field is called upon to decide which side is in the right. Wouldn't it look ridiculous if the two teams in a ball game should every time a disputed point arose, stop the game and go to fighting to settle the matter? And how would it look to the spectators to see the advantage given to a side merely because it was stronger in the first scramble? And yet this is exactly what nations do which go to war to settle disputes. How stupid to think that might can settle who is in the right.

War No Longer Necessary

These great statesmen at The Hague, who composed the third committee, recognized the folly of such a method of settling disputes and adopted a plan which encourages the nations to refer all their disputes to an umpire or arbitrator. In other words, to submit their differences to arbitration. In fact, the plan which this committee adopted makes it absolutely unnecessary for nations to go to war with each other in the future. What an important plan. To save for the people of the world $2,000,000,000 a year, not to speak of the suffering and misery which war always brings. In the nineteenth century more than 14,000,000 able-bodied men were sacrificed in war.

The committee on arbitration divided its work into three parts. It said, first, that if two nations have a dispute, serious enough to cause war, they might call in another nation or nations who would view the matter with them in an impartial light and thus try to bring about a friendly settlement. A further important statement was made—that one or more powers, strangers to the dispute, might of their own free will, offer their assistance. This provision, called "Special Mediation by Neutral Powers," certainly meant a great change in the attitude of nations toward each other.

MISS EVA PICKLES GOES TO ALBERTA

To Become the Bride of Arthur Emmett

Miss Eva Pickles of 1195 Lawrence street this city was one of the happiest persons ever seen at the depot. She was there today and was preparing to board the 10:38 train when a reporter of The Sun happened along. He learned that she is on her way to Vegreville, Alberta, to join her sweetheart whom she will wed there next month. The lucky man is Arthur Emmett, a very prosperous businessman in Vegreville. He is wealthy and owns considerable property throughout the west.

Miss Pickles who was born in New Jersey, came to Lowell about twelve years ago and secured employment in the Bunting Co. mill. She was a favorite with her shopmates from the beginning and when the latter heard of her romance they arranged to give her a send off. Last Thursday evening about fifty of her friends called at her home in Lawrence street and tendered her a farewell reception. During the evening Miss Pickles was presented several beautiful gifts.

Today Miss Pickles was given another send off at the depot. A number of friends were there and when she boarded the train at 10:38 she bade her goodbye.

These great statesmen at The Hague, who composed the third committee, recognized the folly of such a method of settling disputes and adopted a plan which encourages the nations to refer all their disputes to an umpire or arbitrator. In other words, to submit their differences to arbitration. In fact, the plan which this committee adopted makes it absolutely unnecessary for nations to go to war with each other in the future. What an important plan. To save for the people of the world $2,000,000,000 a year, not to speak of the suffering and misery which war always brings. In the nineteenth century more than 14,000,000 able-bodied men were sacrificed in war.

The committee on arbitration divided its work into three parts. It said, first, that if two nations have a dispute, serious enough to cause war, they might call in another nation or nations who would view the matter with them in an impartial light and thus try to bring about a friendly settlement. A further important statement was made—that one or more powers, strangers to the dispute, might of their own free will, offer their assistance. This provision, called "Special Mediation by Neutral Powers," certainly meant a great change in the attitude of nations toward each other.

BUSINESS RUSHING IN THE SHOE SHOPS

New Plant Employs 300 Operatives

HIGH CLASS GOODS ARE MADE THERE

Other News of the Shoe Trade

The shoe industry in this city is increasing every day, and the manufacturers are beginning to realize that Lowell is a good centre for this kind of business. At the present time there are about twelve shoe factories in this city, all active and turning out a considerable amount of work. Some specialize in fancy shoes, while others which are in the majority are turning out the ordinary wearing shoe.

One of the busiest plants in Lowell however, despite the fact that it has been organized but a few months, is the Dudley, Mears & Stevens Shoe Co., Inc., in Broadway. This company was organized last October with a capital of $50,000 by Messrs. A. K. Stevens, Ralph Mears and H. H. Dudley. Previous to going into the shoe manufacturing business Mr. Stevens was superintendent of the Fiske Shoe Leather Co. in Brockton. He has had considerable experience in his line and is the right man in the right place, as general manager of the company he is interested in. He is making his home in this city and is well satisfied with the way business has progressed in Lowell.

Mr. Mears who is president of the company was formerly a travelling shoe salesman and will be a valuable man in the local plant. Mr. Dudley was in the drug business before entering the shoe business, but he is satisfied with the change. He is treasurer of the corporation.

When these three men formed the company they found a desirable building in this city at 152 Broadway and immediately leased it. They installed new machinery and now occupy the entire building, three floors. Their specialty is fine leather shoes for men both tan and black, and when they first started they turned out 25 dozen shoes or 500 pairs, but business has been so good, that that amount has been doubled. The help are mostly all Lowell people with the exception of the foremen.

Mr. Stevens stated this morning that they encountered a little difficulty when they first started, for the Lowell shoe workers were not accustomed to the kind of work the factory is turning out, but now all this is overcome and everything is running smoothly. The weekly pay roll of the company is $1200 and despite the fact that the majority of the out-of-town shops are down flat, the Dudley, Mears & Stevens Co. is running full time, and pretty soon it expects to increase its capital. Ninety per cent of the goods turned out this month of the year is tan.

Foster Shoe Shop

The A. J. Foster Shoe shop at 63 Willie street also reports fair business for the season. The line of goods there differs entirely from that of the above factory, as women's, ladies' and children's shoes, Mackay shoes, are being manufactured at this place. This concern has been in Lowell since 1907 and business has always been good. The shop is running very steady and there are now 125 people on the payroll, the majority of whom are being paid on piece work. The plant turns out a large amount of work daily and the owners expect a rush of orders in a couple of months.

BOXING, GOLF
AND ATHLETICSJIMMY GARDNER GAVE
AN EXCELLENT EXHIBITIONIn His Recent Bout With Howard
Baker That Was Fought
at Denver

Jackey Maynard, sporting editor of the Denver Times, one of the best fight critics in the country, in his account of the recent Gardner-Baker fight says that the Lowell man had the best of the going. It was reported in several of the eastern papers that the contest was a draw, but according to the following by a man who was at the ringside, the Lowell man put up a great exhibition and won hands down.

Howard Baker, the Boulder boxer, surprised Denver last night by the showing he made against Jimmy Gardner of Lowell, Mass. in their ten-round bout at the Stockyards pavilion. He was outclassed by the eastern middleweight several lengths, but that was expected.

Gardner depended on his left hand to outbox the Boulder lad, as his right was in bad condition from an injury received while training. Gardner landed ten blows on Baker in one round. The easterner had a bad night in every round with the possible exception of the tenth.

Baker was wild with his swings and Gardner's clever footwork at times made Baker appear like a novice. Twice during the ten rounds Howard in making swings, went between the ropes.

Baker put up a much better fight against Gardner last night than he did when he met Harry Lewis at the Denver Athletic club, for in that bout he was covered up throughout the entire ten rounds, never making an attempt to fight back. Last night he covered up a great deal, but did open up several times in attempts to land swings.

Effective in Clinches
In the clinches he worked a kidney punch effectively, and this was his best blow. He laid on a trifle too much, which would have been counted against him had a decision been rendered. Baker also showed more gameness in last night's bout than he did when he fought Lewis, and he showed that he has improved a great deal in his boxing.

Gardner fought cool throughout the ten rounds, using a straight left which he landed on Baker at will. In the fourth round he let go with his right, which staggered the Boulder boy. Again in the seventh the right made things look bad for Howard. During the clinches Gardner worked a left uppercut to the face and a rip to the stomach that hurt the Boulder lad.

Gardner would feint Baker and the latter would counter up, then Jimmy, stepping back, would jolt Howard with lefts to the head and stomach. The Lowell middleweight showed his ring generalship by making Baker miss long swings and then landing lefts to the head.

At times when Baker was covering up Gardner would slip over a light right-hand punch to the side of the head with just enough force to remind the Boulder lad that he had a right wing. Gardner let Baker do the roughing in the clinches and saved himself as much as possible while in close quarters.

Gardner Takes Bad Fall

In the tenth round Gardner was shoved through the ropes and landed heavily on his back. Before any assistance could be rendered he jumped back into the ring and tore into Baker. The fall was a nasty one and Jimmy was hurt more than he acknowledged to his seconds until after he returned to the city.

Baker landed several straight lefts on Gardner but there was little steam behind them. Baker fought much better on the clinches than he did at long range. When in close quarters he not only worked the kidney punch but also shot in several punches to the stomach.

At long range Baker did not seem to be able to get away from Gardner's straight leads or left hooks. Gardner had one punch that appeared to puzzle the Boulder boy and he could not stop it. This was a left jab to the head, followed by sending the left hook to the body. Jimmy landed this combination every time he tried it.

Good Crowd Sees Bout

The fight last night pleased the spectators, many of whom rooted hard for the Colorado boy. Both men had trained hard for the battle and were in good condition. Neither Baker nor Gardner was marked up much from the blows they received and the gate receipts were close to $3000, giving each man a neat sum for his thirty minutes' work.

DIAMOND NOTES

The boys had a rest yesterday.

At Worcester today, 11-0.

Lawrence at Lowell postponed at 3.

All the papers of the circuit, think well of the Lowell team.

There is only one reason why Lowell is leading the league and one glance at the batting average of the team will answer it. The circuit, however, is not so sure of the Lowell team.

King, Lawrence's pitcher, pitched looks as if he were going to be a sensation in the league. He held Lowell to seven hits Friday and defeated the champs.

New Bedford does not look dangerous. Lack of hitting will cost the Whalers many a game this summer. Frank Cunningham has a fair fielding club, but it falls down at the bat.—Exchange.

McCune is catching swell ball for the Worcester team. He is batting in the 300 class, and this throwing to bases has been far above his work of last year.

When Lowell plays in Worcester, Manager Burkett will proceed to get revenge. Jesse will have to groom up two of his twirlers for Lowell's first visit to Boulevard park.—Worcester Post. That's what they all say.

Haverhill is the best fielding team in the league and well up among the best batting teams, but it does not advance in the league race.—Exchange.

Arthur Lavigne has the first catcher's job clinched in Lowell. Arthur has been attracting a lot of attention by his eye batting and throwing to the bases this season.—Worcester Post.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Decide to Organize a
Baseball League

A meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening to discuss plans for the formation of a Sunday school baseball league. Representatives of several churches were present, and preliminary arrangements were made. It was decided that the games should be played on Saturday afternoons.

The election of the executive board was postponed until next Monday evening when another meeting will be held. At this meeting two delegates of each club in the league will attend, and these will compose the executive board. They will elect the officers of the league and arrange the schedule. The question of prizes and caps was discussed and was later referred to the next meeting.

Many plans were discussed relative to the use of Washington park, which has been leased by the association until October 1st. Work is now under way for the making of a good baseball diamond, two tennis courts, a handball court, a running track, jumping pits and for the erection of a variety of apparatus for the out-door gymnasium. It is hoped also that the two shower baths in the grandstand may be fixed over and that suitable dressing rooms may be arranged.

This out-door gymnasium and athletic field will be available not only in day time, but also at night. By a system of lighting it is hoped to make most of the apparatus available for use after nightfall and the baseball games for business men and employed boys will be one of the special features. The league has already been formed, being called the Sunset League, and the schedule of games and the complete arrangements will be acted upon at a meeting of the business men and other fellows in the association rooms tonight. The games in the schedule will run throughout the summer and will be played from 7.30 until 7 o'clock. The length of the games being six innings. Many of the players in this league belong to other clubs and through the league they will be able to secure more than the ordinary amount of practice and at the same time get a lot of pleasure through the good natured competition which will naturally arise in it. It is also hoped that from the Sunset League many players may be drafted for the other clubs in the Y. M. C. A. league.

Arrangements for the annual track meet to be held on the South common under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. are progressing and the members expect that this year's meeting will in the big league. Early last season he was with the Reds, but was sent back to the minors by Clark Griffith for more seasoning. Shortstop has been the weak spot on the team for many years, and now that the hole is plugged up Manager Hank O'Day says his team will come pretty near capturing the flag.

THOMAS AND CARSON

To Meet at ell Social

Joe Thomas of this city who is at Denver, Colo., with Jimmy Gardner, has been matched to fight Jack Carson of Denver, the bout to be staged in about two weeks. Carson is a very clever middleweight and has defeated some of the best in that section of the country. Thomas, who trained Gardner for his bout with Baker on May 5 is in fine condition and expects to do the same thing that brother-in-law, Jimmy, did—win.

A BATTLE ROYAL
BETWEEN FIVE MEN

At Meeting of the Lowell
S. and A. Club

The program for Thursday night's meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club is one that is sure to please the members of the club. The main bout is a hummer. It will be furnished by Joe Nelson of Lawrence and Henry Hall of Bangor, Maine. Both are very clever men and have defeated some of the best men in this section at their weight. Nelson is well known in this city by the followers of the boxing game. He fought several times at the Armory club in Boston and also in his home town, Lawrence. Many Lowell men who took in the shows at Boston say that he is one of the fastest ever. He is training hard and expects to be in great shape by Thursday. Hall, while not so well known, has been heard of and his fine record speaks for the hills of Belvidere. The other preliminaries will be announced later. Matchmaker Elly Gardner will officiate as referee. The meeting will be held at Mathew Hall and Mr. Gardner says that it will start promptly at 8.25 o'clock.

staged in Lowell and it is expected that all the members will be on hand to see the fun. The remainder of the program will include two six-round preliminaries. In the first Young O'Connell of Davis square will tackle Young Ketcher of Belvidere. The latter has appeared at the club several times this season and has always given a good account of himself. Last week he met Terry O'Rourke of Lawrence and put up a lively argument. O'Connell will make his debut at the club and his many friends are confident that he will put a crimp on the club at the hills of Belvidere. The other preliminaries will be announced later. Matchmaker Elly Gardner will officiate as referee. The meeting will be held at Mathew Hall and Mr. Gardner says that it will start promptly at 8.25 o'clock.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED BY THE WOMEN'S CLUB

The Annual Meeting Brought Out a Large Attendance of Members

The annual meeting of the Middlesex Women's club was held yesterday and Miss Grace Ward was elected president to succeed Mrs. Henry A. Smith. Miss Ward was unanimously elected, together with the rest of the official ballot, which was as follows:

President, Miss Grace Ward; vice-presidents, Mrs. Agnes Peabody Eaton, Miss Gertrude A. Roddick, Mrs. Lillie A. Spaulding; recording secretary, Mrs. Carrie E. Harris; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Annie K. Greene; treasurer, Mrs. Annie B. Robertson; chairman of finance, Mrs. Emma F. Thompson; directors, Mrs. Sophie M. Dumas, Mrs. Martha A. Gage, Miss Hattie B. Hadley.

The annual report of the recording secretary, Mrs. Carrie E. Harris, was read and accepted; also the reports of the treasurer, Mrs. Annie B. Robertson, and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Annie K. Greene.

The report of the retiring president, Mrs. Henry A. Smith, contained some very interesting facts. Referring to the club's interest in the industrial school, she reported that:

"There is no doubt but that the most far-reaching and permanent effort of the club during the year, has been to aid in the establishment of our industrial school, which is maintained by the city and state. It has been said that Lowell is in the forefront with one of the best, if not the very best, of the schools in the state. It has already proved the necessity of its creation by outgrowing its present quarters in all departments."

The committee appointed from our club and confirmed by the council has made several visits to the school, and we heard a very complete report of the work being done there at a class meeting of the education department.

Saving Their Pennies

"The sub-committee on penny savings has a most gratifying report. All the grammar schools now have the system of school savings, and six of the primary schools have adopted it since the fall of 1911."

Since the first school undertook the work, 79 per cent. of the pupils in the twenty schools have become depositors and the total savings amount to $13,426.23. Only a small proportion of this has been withdrawn and then later re-deposited. It is worth while to expend time and effort when such splendid results may be obtained in teaching our boys and girls thrift and self-control.

Legislative Matters

"In legislative matters the club has followed the lines suggested by the state federation. Through its committee it has supported five bills of the state legislature and one of the national legislature. The power of the clubs throughout the state and the nation is well recognized by our senators and representatives."

"The Consumers' league of Massachusetts, at the suggestion of the state federation, has been making an investigation into the condition of the bakeries in different cities."

"The purpose has been to establish a 'white list' of bakeries, which requires reasonable cleanliness and sanitary surroundings—throughout the state. Such an investigation has been going on in our city in co-operation with the local board of health."

"Our club was asked to assist, and already two tours have been made. The investigation has shown a fairly good reception, and on the part of the better bakeries a very earnest desire to be on the published 'white list.' The league takes all responsibility of decisions."

"It reports that our local inspectors are doing good work, and that conditions compare fairly well with those in most cities. Some three or four visits will be necessary before the list is published next fall."

"Three years ago our club was appealed to by the public commission to assist in the playground work, by looking after the girls, who congregated in large numbers."

"We responded to its appeal, and each year since, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy and her committee have had the work for girls under their care. It is a fact that the playground for the girls would not have materialized if this committee had not taken the matter in hand."

Ten Thousand Suffragettes Who Marched in New York Expect Success in Other States

THE YOUNGEST SUFFRAGETTE

TYPICAL PARADERS

PHOTOGRAPH BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

MRS. O. H. P. BELMONT

NEW YORK, May 7.—The ten thousand advocates of "votes for women" who paraded up Fifth avenue Saturday while perhaps half a million onlookers watched them believe that the showing they made will not only advance their cause in this state, but they think that it will have a similar effect in other states where the struggle for equal suffrage is in progress. The parade was led by a company of women mounted on spirited horses, and among the paraders were women so old and feeble that they rode in carriages and children so young that they were pushed in perambulators by older enthusiasts. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont led one division, walking alone. There was some attempt at uniformity in the matter of dress, white predominating, and the official hat, a straw affair which cost 27 cents, was frequently seen.

MAN TIRED OF LIFE

NEW YORK, May 7.—Charles McFarland, a chauffeur, slipped by the police guard on the roadway of Brooklyn bridge early today and when he reached the middle of the span plunged over the rail into the water, 135 feet below. A tugboat headed toward the spot where the bridge jumper had disappeared and a minute later the unconscious body came to the surface. McFarland was hauled aboard the tug and brought ashore. His shoulder was fractured and he suffered from internal injuries. He may recover. McFarland said he was tired of life.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The judiciary committee of the house, which has been authorized to conduct an inquiry into the charges made against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States commerce court, has summoned several witnesses. The committee will report whether or not impeachment proceedings shall be started against the jurist. Judge Archbald, who comes from Pennsylvania, is accused of being associated with E. J. Williams of Scranton in a deal to buy extra bonds from the Erie railroad on terms so favorable that a profit of $20,000 or more would have resulted.

ELDERLY FOLKS! CALOMEL, SALTS AND CATHARTICS AREN'T FOR YOU

"Syrup of Figs" is best to cleanse your stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, gases and clogged-up waste.

You old people. Syrup of Figs is particularly for you. You who don't exercise as much as you need to; who like the easy chair. You, whose steps are slow and whose muscles are less elastic. You must realize that your liver and ten yards of bowels have also become less active.

Don't regard Syrup of Figs as physic. It stimulates the liver and bowels just as exercises would do if you took enough of it. It is not harsh like salts or cathartics. The help which Syrup of Figs gives to a torpid liver and weak sluggish bowels is harmless, natural and gentle.

When eyes grow dim, you help them. Do the same with your liver and bowels when age makes them less active. There is nothing more important. Costive, clogged-up bowels mean that leavens, fermenting food is clogged there, and the pores of your skin, in consequence, are clogged up. Decay, thirty feet of bowels suck this decay, ing waste and poisons into the blood. You will never get feeling right until this is corrected—but do it gently. Don't have a bowel washday; don't use a bowel irritant. For your sake, please use only gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Then you are not drug-slinging yourself. For Syrup of Figs is composed of only natural figs, senna and aromatics which can not injure.

A teaspoonful tonight will gently, but thoroughly, move on and out of your system by morning all the sour bile, poisonous fermenting food and clogged-up waste matter without griping, nausea or weakness.

But get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with contempt, any other Fig Syrup, unless it bears the name—prepared by the California Fig Syrup Company.

Read the label.

SOME IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

There is a good deal of discussion at the present time as to the effect of the great influx of immigration. There are alarmists who cry out against it as a serious menace to our country, but this immigration is the very thing that has built up this American nation to its present proportions. It is true that the class of immigrants coming to this country today is not as good as that which came here twenty-five years ago or earlier. While the country is speculating as to the danger of this undirected influx of immigrants, the chief danger, in our opinion, is the mistake of permitting foreigners to flock into factory cities in numbers far too great to be accommodated by the capacity of the local industries. When these men, after coming here with high hopes of prosperous conditions, find the very reverse they naturally become exasperated and in that mood will do things that they otherwise would not think of doing. When the immigrants arrive here they are not the wards of the nation, so that the federal government does not feel warranted in directing them to any particular part of the country. Consequently they scatter where they please among the different states, usually congregating in large colonies in one place.

It is a fact worthy of consideration that other governments direct and control their immigration, sending it to the districts where immigrant labor is needed in farming or in building railroads. Under the constitution the federal government has regarded this outside its functions; but it could have the states put in requisitions for a certain number of immigrants from this or that country and through the immigration agencies at foreign ports, these could be supplied. Moreover, it is the duty of the federal government to give accurate information to intending immigrants to prevent their being imposed upon by agents or sharks of any kind. Thousands of immigrants have been lured here under false representation of conditions and promises of wages that could never be realized. It was thus that many of the immigrants who recently caused trouble in Lawrence were induced to leave their homes in Europe.

That immigrants are permitted to settle in any particular place in larger numbers than can be accommodated by employment is the fault of the federal authorities. That they are allowed to remain many of them illiterate without any effort to enlighten them in regard to local conditions, our laws and our institutions is our fault, not theirs.

Lowell and other cities do much for the foreign elements through evening schools. Our evening school system has 82 rooms with 120 teachers at the opening of the term and 82 at close. An average number belonging was 3101. The attendance was made up of pupils who can read and write in English and those compelled by law to attend who are illiterate in English. Our evening schools do good work for the foreigners, but some cities maintain schools in the day time also for foreign born minors. Most of the foreigners who are unable to speak English are anxious to learn and acquire the rudiments of the language in a remarkably short space of time.

The local mill operative require a preparatory school of citizenship, a school in which they can learn something of our history, our form of government, our institutions and the method by which they can get naturalized. An evening school of this character would do a great deal of good, for there are thousands of foreigners anxious for an opportunity to acquire the knowledge necessary to the acquisition of citizenship.

There is altogether too much gratuitous assumption that the foreigners coming here have had no religious training. Many of them though ignorant in other respects have deep religious faith and are astonished on coming to this country to find the spirit of irreligion that prevails.

The failure to look up the antecedents of intending immigrants is responsible for the importation of many bad characters and the lack of proper preparation for American citizenship after their arrival here, leaves many of them a prey to the schemes of designing leaders in dangerous or even criminal societies. That explains why so many immigrants are led to set themselves in opposition to lawfully constituted authority.

STEERAGE PASSENGERS NEGLECTED

The story of the Titanic disaster as told in the investigation at Washington shows very conclusively that there is too little regard for the steerage passengers in case of danger. When the accident occurred there was an effort to keep the steerage passengers in the dark as to the nature of the damage to the vessel. The officers evidently feared that if the steerage passengers realized the danger they would create a panic. Hereafter the majority who travel by steerage will have to be protected as well as those who occupy the palatial suites of the first and second cabins.

The B. F. Keith theatrical combine is one of the kind that makes for better productions, not the contrary. With Keith, it seems, excellence alone is the watchword. That is what the people want. Mr. Keith's specialty is vaudeville, but the legitimate drama still lives and must not be banished. It seems that should Mr. Keith devote more attention to its revival he could accomplish great results.

We have now reached a condition in which industrial peace may be said to prevail, and it is of interest to all concerned to keep it so. The building and general business prospects for the season are very good. It is time Lowell took a bound forward, and this she can do if we stop the labor fights and get to work.

When we read of the wild rampage of the Mississippi do we not feel somewhat grateful to the quiet and unimpaired Merrimack flowing serenely undisturbed in her channel to the sea?

The explosion at Hazardville, Conn., yesterday was a reminder of the South Lowell explosion in July, 1903, but the disaster was not so serious.

The question of whether we have or have not the $49,000 set apart for a public hall should be settled beyond question.

Let us hope that no new mill strike will be worked up out of any petty little grievance by little groups of employees.

JUST TAKES TO HIM NATURALLY

SEEN AND HEARD

"The persistency with which children see in a fable some other moral than the one which it is intended that they shall see is often distressing," remarks a Philadelphia instructor of the young. "I had recited to one little boy the story of the wolf and the lamb, and had followed it up with the remark: 'And now you see, Tommy, that the lamb would not have been eaten by the wolf if he had been good and sensible.' 'Yes, I understand,' said Tommy. 'If the lamb had been good and sensible we should have had him to eat.'"

The Rev. Anna H. Shaw told, at a recent equal suffrage convention, a witty little story that requires neither preface nor comment.

"When I was studying theology in Boston," said Doctor Shaw, "our professor explained that when we said 'all the world,' we should spread our arms wide in an appropriate gesture, indicating the largeness of the world. Then the good man hesitated, looked at me—I was the only woman in the class—and added: 'Of course a lady would not be expected to gesticulate like a man. A lady would gesticulate from the elbows.'"

It was in a suburban inn on one of the near-zero nights last winter and a glorious fire was roaring up the chimney from the open fireplace. A half-dozen men were pre-empting the space in front of the blaze and it happened that all were lawyers. A physician came in, shivering. He knew the lawyers, but not one offered him a chance at the fire. One of them said: "Doctor, we were just talking about foreign parts. I was remarking to my friends that you had probably seen as much of the world as any man in this country."

"Well, yes," said the doctor. "I have been in every country in Europe, in China, Japan, Egypt—pretty much everywhere anybody goes." "Ever been in India?" put in a facetious limb of the law.

"O, yes." "How did you find things there?" "Well, pretty much the same as here—all lawyers close to the fire."

Joseph E. Widener, at a dinner in Philadelphia, was congratulated on his father's unique and magnificent gallery of pictures.

"Yes," said Mr. Widener, "my father is a connoisseur, a true connoisseur. I don't use the word 'connoisseur' either as the great painter used it."

"A great painter, you know, was asked by his little son: 'Father, what is a connoisseur?' 'Well, my son,' the father answered, 'you notice that tall, white-haired gentleman at my study tea yesterday?'"

"The one with the sable-lined overcoat, father?" "O, yes, I noticed him." "Well, my son, he's a connoisseur."

"But how do you know he's a connoisseur, father?" "By his actions, my son."

"But, father, he acted like everyone else at the tea, didn't he?" "Certainly not, my boy! Certainly not! The others drank my Russian tea, ate my fish-grass sandwiches and took leave. But he—he bought a picture!"

CHASING THE GLOOM. It looked as though 'twas going to be a rather gloomy day for me;

PUT COLOR IN CHEEKS AND LIPS

Experience of a Sufferer from Thin Blood Who Thought She Could Not Live.

The fact that one woman is bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked, strong and cheerful, while another is pale, weak and depressed is due more often than otherwise to the condition of the blood. The way to remedy this condition is to build up the blood and for this purpose there is no better tonic than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are for both men and women but they benefit the latter in a special way.

Mrs. Eva L. Richardson, of No. 32 Adams street, Laconia, N. H., says: "My health began to fail and for four years I was sick. The doctors said I was suffering from anemia. I was so pale and white that my flesh was almost transparent. I was very thin but my limbs and face were bloated. There was not a particle of color in my lips. I suffered from palpitation of the heart and could not go up and down stairs without stopping two or three times and holding on to the banisters for support. I had such terrible headaches that it was impossible for me to exert myself the least bit. My sleep was broken by smothering spells and in the day time I had dizzy spells. The doctor prescribed gam for me but I could not eat very little. I could not even eat eggs. My mother read in a paper about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and of the good they were doing and, knowing that I could not live on as I was, thought there would be no harm in trying them. We were all surprised at the result. I soon began to have color in my cheeks and lips and felt much stronger. I continued using the pills until I was as well as ever. My health has been perfect ever since and I can heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed by the manufacturers to contain no opiate, narcotic or anything that could injure the most delicate system.

A booklet, "Building Up the Blood," showing what these pills have accomplished in anemia, rheumatism, general debility and after-effects of fevers will be sent free on request.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or they will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

And when at noon I started out I'm almost sure I was a poet. I had no reason to be sad. But still, somehow, I wasn't glad. My head was down, my pace was slow. Then some one shouted out: "Hello!"

A friend came up and slapped my back and yanked me off the gloomy track; He grabbed my hand, and then began To talk as only good folks can; He walked a mile or two with me. Then, somehow, I began to see That all the clouds that loomed so gray Had suddenly been blown away.

It seemed to me, wherever I went I found new cause to be content: The burdens I had thought so great Seemed to be quickly losing weight; And everywhere I turned it seemed Some friendly face upon me beamed; Someone with cheerful words to say Bobbed up to chase the gloom away.

Where I expected discontent I reaped but sweet encouragement; The letters on my desk were fraught With messages of kindly thought. And long before the stroke of noon I started in to hunt a tune.

And when at night I went to bed, I've had a glorious day," I said.

WILL HOLD AN IMPORTANT MEETING TONIGHT

An important meeting of the Lowell board of trade will be held in the hall in Dutton street tonight. Employees of labor are interested in the details of the recent Workmen's Compensation Act and the insurance features in connection with the same. The matter is not generally understood and inasmuch as the law goes into effect July 1st, placing all employees with the exception of the domestic service and farm labor under the law and providing certain compensation for industrial accidents the best methods of safeguarding the employer will be explained by Mr. F. Spencer Baldwin who is secretary of the Massachusetts Employees Insurance Association, and the old life liability companies will be represented by Mr. H. C. Sawyer. Members are privileged to invite friends and also have the privilege of asking questions of the speakers. It is expected that a large meeting will be held.

ANTONIO IS GUILTY

OF SHOOTING AT MEN

Who Were Playing Hose on Lawrence Strikers

SALEM, May 7.—In the superior criminal court yesterday afternoon Orlando Antonio of Lawrence was found guilty by a jury of assault with intent to kill Brock Stiles, James Neal and Adolph Brock in Lawrence, Jan. 15. The case had been on trial for two days. It was one of the sequelae of the labor troubles in Lawrence. Evidence was submitted that while Stiles, Neal and Brock were stationed on the roof of the lower Pacific mill weave shed, Jan. 15, playing large fire hose on strikers assembled at the mill gates, the defendant fired five shots at the trio.

Special Officer John S. Cully and others testified that they saw Antonio fire at the men. Cully placed the defendant under arrest. Antonio was remanded to Salem jail and will be in court later for sentence.

DRACUT

The following committee of the Dracut Improvement society held a conference with Superintendent Lee and

The charter privilege to Collinsville and the 15 minute time and better cars were the main topics of the conference. The railroad officials promised the committee they would do all in their power to satisfy their demands.

COL. ROOSEVELT GAINED

In the Recount of Votes for Delegates

The recount of the vote for delegates-at-large at the presidential primaries last Tuesday was completed by the local board of registrars of voters last night and it was discovered that the total number of ballots spoiled by reason of nine Taft delegates being voted for instead of eight was 488. The falling off in the figures as announced at the close of the polls showed a consequent gain to the Roosevelt delegates. The total original vote for Roosevelt was 19,671 and for Taft 12,857. Roosevelt's total recounted vote was 19,633 and Taft's 12,259. Some very tough counting was discovered by the registrars and it almost seemed as if the counters lost sight of the fact that there were nine names listed for Taft delegates, when only eight should have been counted. The total vote, original and recounted, for the candidates for delegates-at-large, follows:

For Roosevelt
Original Recount Loss

LOCAL AUTO DEALERS REPORT INCREASED SALES

A Stricter Enforcement of Traffic Laws in This City is Urged by Citizens

There was a decided increase in the sales of automobiles through the local agencies during the past week and the different dealers also report an increase in the amount of sales of accessories and plenty of repair work.

The Traffic Laws

There should be a stricter enforcement of the traffic laws in this city for many operators of machines are very careless in passing through the local streets, especially in the center of the city, both by "cutting" corners and driving at a rate of speed which endangers the lives of pedestrians.

It might also be added that drivers of automobiles should be very careful while approaching cross streets for within the past few days two accidents occurred, but fortunately not of a serious nature. On Sunday two machines collided at the junction of Moody and Allen streets. One machine was passing along Moody street and the other along Allen and they collided. Yesterday an automobile which was driven along South street came in contact with an electric car in Branch street.

The Oakland Car

Morris Cohen of Suffolk street has purchased a model 30 Oakland touring car and James J. Delan of Concord street has purchased an Oakland convertible roadster through the agency of the Moody Bridge company.

John Healy, the well known tailor will soon be seen in a nifty model 40 Oakland touring car which he recently purchased at the Moody bridge garage. George Fairburn also purchased a car through the same agency.

Mr. Arthur Cummings of the Moody bridge garage has sold a model 29 Oakland to Ferdinand Sandow of Lawrence.

The Popular Ford

The Lowell motor mart has delivered a beautiful Ford town car to Joseph Albert, the well known undertaker. Mr. Arthur Gray has purchased a Ford touring car through the same agency. Mr. Stephen Rochester, the proprietor of the mart, has found business extraordinarily good this year and it is expected that at the close of the season there will be about twice as many Ford cars in Lowell as there are at the present time.

The Silent Buick

During the past week eight Buick pleasure cars and one Buick truck were sold through the agency of the Lowell Automobile corporation in Appleton street during the past week. Inasmuch as this corporation has an excellent show room with plenty of window space and as the people know the excellent work of the car during the past several years the machines meet with ready sale.

International Truck

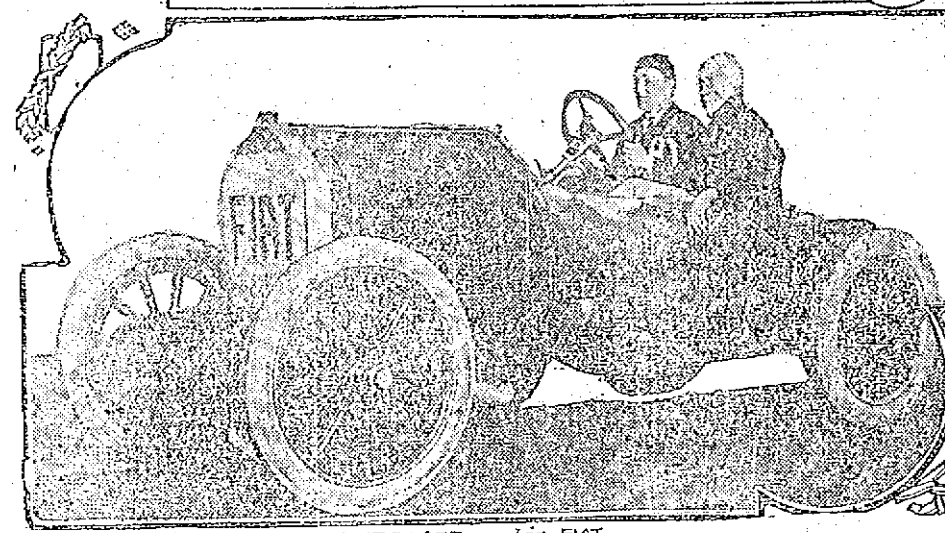

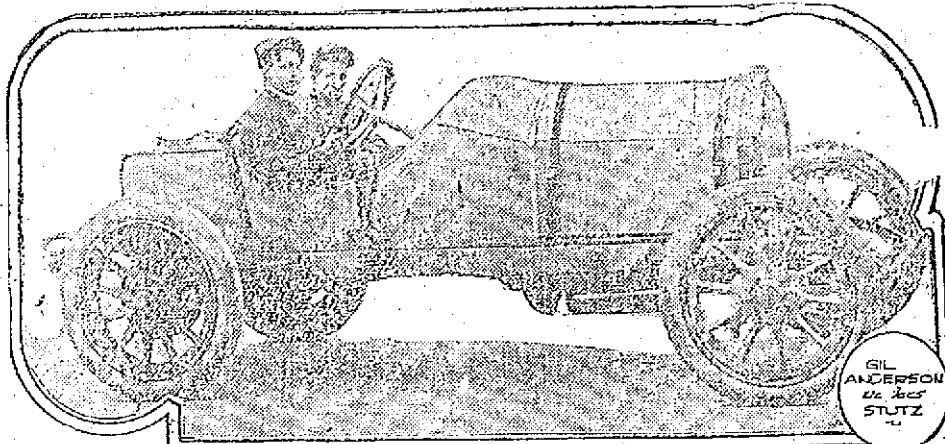

Ervin E. Smith company 43-45-47-49 Market street have been demonstrating the new model M. W. Inter. water cooled truck the past week. They have already sold trucks to F. W. Park, of Chelmsford, E. A. Davis of Rock street, the Standard Bottling company, H. G. Watts company of Billerica, Walter A. Andrews the Dracut milkman. These trucks are giving excellent satisfaction and there is no truck in the market that has as great a carrying capacity for the price.

"I am still sticking to my three Rs," said George F. White, to a representative of this paper when he called at Mr. White's garage in Middlesex street today. What he meant by putting his reply in this manner to the question as to the "how" of business puzzled the representative of The Sun for a while, but, before the mind of the representative had got thoroughly into operation, to work out the enigma, Mr. White explained his reply in this way. He said: "When I went to school, my teacher impressed upon my mind the value of perfecting myself in the three Rs of the curriculum, but at that time, I had no idea that in after life when I would embark in business, that three Rs, which are diametrically opposite to the three taught in school would bring me my livelihood. Such however is the case for with the Reo and the Rambler which constitute two of the three, I am making a good impression in the automobile business in this city and adjacent towns, and the final R is of the first letter of the word 'rushing' which expresses properly the condition of business with me as you may see by these sales closed the past week. He handed the writer a slip containing the following names: Model R. Reos, were sold to C. E. Chambers, the Middlesex street merchant; O. J. Smith of Lawrence; H. C. Shackleton of Lawrence, and R. O. Sandford of Billerica. Dr. O. V. Wells, who has been a Reo enthusiast for several years, buys a Model S.

Data concerning the wonderful showing made by the Reo against higher powered and higher priced cars in the tests made last month in Fresno, Cal. can be had from Mr. White. The Reo certainly proved its worth if the accounts of the tests as published in the Fresno papers can be taken as a criterion.

THE INTERNATIONAL SWEEPSTAKES AT THE INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY

Anderson and Tetzloff Among the Prominent Entries and Are Looked Upon as Among Winners of $50,000 Purse

Two of the most formidable entries in the second annual 500-mile international sweepstakes race to be run at the Indianapolis motor speedway next Memorial day, are Gil Anderson in his Stutz racing car, and Teddy Tetzloff, the Pacific coast driver, in his Italian

Flat. These two cars have been listed among the winners in some of the biggest events in the past racing season, and are looked upon as sure to be in the $50,000 purse at the speedway. The Stutz car is an American product built in Indianapolis while the Fiat is built in Turin, Italy; either, however, is capable of making more than one hundred miles per hour. Both drivers have a long list of victories to their credit and have national reputations.

MANY MOTORISTS PLANNING TRANS- CONTINENTAL TOURS

A most important step in the movement to construct a great national highway across the American continent was taken last week when the National Old Trails Ocean to Ocean Highway association was formally launched at an enthusiastic convention held in Kansas City at which many delegates were in attendance from the states through which it is planned the highway will pass.

The route will include almost every city of importance from New York to San Francisco, every mile of which has been charted by the pathfinders of the Touring club of America who made a nine thousand mile circuitous tour of the United States under the auspices of the office of public roads, department of agriculture at Washington, D. C.

Starting from New York the highway will go westward through Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Wheeling, Columbus, Indianapolis, Terre Haute, St. Louis, Kansas City, Emporia, La Junta, Albuquerque, Phoenix, San Diego, Los Angeles to San Francisco.

At the Kansas City convention plans were formulated for the making and marking of a permanent transcontinental highway following as near as practicable the routes known as the Cumberland pike, the Boon's Lick road, the Santa Fe trail and the Trail to Sunset. This route, not only included most of the important sightseeing regions, but also keeps to historic paths forming the most remarkable scenic highways ever opened to the motor tourist.

The route which was originally charted by the Touring club follows the Braddock road, the Cumberland pike, and the National highway through Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Columbus and Indianapolis to St. Louis. From St. Louis it follows the state highway through Columbia and then goes through to Santa Fe, N. M., by the Boon's Lick road and the Santa Fe trail; from there it follows the line of march of General Kearney's army into Colorado passing through the wonders of the southwest, the Indian Pueblos and the Grand Canyon.

The important bearing which the Touring club's path-finding tours have and upon road improvement throughout the west is reflected not only in the organization of the Ocean to Ocean Highway association and other similar organizations having for their like purpose the construction of new transcontinental routes for automobilists, but is further evidenced in the wonderful strides in road building which is manifest in other states some of which between the routes which have been selected during the past two years by the club's representatives.

several cars may be for first honors that had to be decided by driving tests. "Touring is not as strenuous as racing in our estimation. Racing requires the real brand of sportsmanship that always evolves only one winner. The rest always lose. Only one car can be shown superior in a race. Racing is more severe, it calls for more strain, more wear and upon every ounce of power and every fiber of strength of the car. One race of 200 miles at terrific sustained speed will tell more of a car's true merits than ordinary touring of a thousand miles.

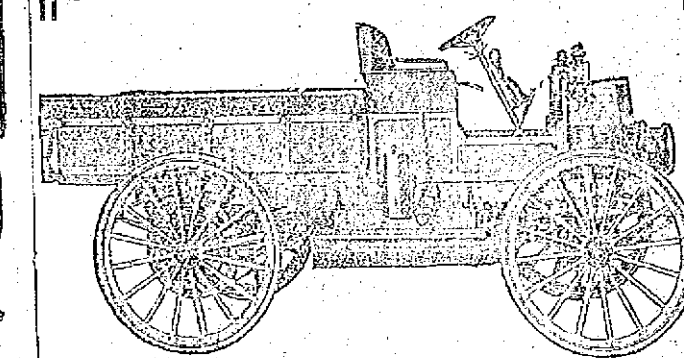

"The race offers a more convincing test; besides it has more attractiveness to the public. The largest paid admission to any sporting event in the history of the world was to see an automobile race. To race the car must qualify. For example, in one race two are entered in the cars must show a speed of seventy-five miles an hour for two and a half miles before they can start in the event. This eliminates all except worthy foes, and victory from such a field is more of an honor. In a race any car that can run is able to qualify.

"Next to the race, perhaps, comes the hill climb. Then comes touring. It is a fact that a successful car in racing and hill climbing is also able to conquer the less strenuous task of touring. Both racing and touring have given an impetus to the efforts to procure better roads. Tours have been followed by county commissioners, surveyors and planners better highways. Likewise, Gas, Santa Monica, Cal., and other centers have improved their roads, due to the interest taken in the automobile events.

"After all is said and done, the way to judge a car is in comparison under right competition. We believe that races give the most severe test; therefore we do not shrink from tackling the hardest job."

THE NOVICE.

Hubby—Gracious, why are you starting out with that whip on our fishing trip?
 Willey (innocently)—Why-er-Henry, didn't you say we would have to whip the stream?

How they Succeeded.

FROM some word dropped by the fat man, the red-headed man in the street car beside him turned and said:
 "Is it possible that you are from old Cahoes?"
 "Yes, I live there," was the reply.
 "Well, well! I used to live there myself when I was a boy. Do you know Jim Marshall?"
 "Oh, yes. He married a school-ma'am and goes to the Legislature every term now."
 "And Burt Smith?"
 "He married his typewriter and is a judge now."

"And Andy Scott?"
 "Andy? Oh, he married a girl in the library and has a state job of some sort."
 "And there was Henry Taylor."
 "Henry? Some folks said he would never amount to a hill of beans, but he married a girl in the postoffice and climbed into Congress last year."
 "And there used to be a Sol Davila."
 "There is yet. Sol was going to the dogs when he married a subscription book agent and was appointed American Consul at some place in Canada."
 "There is one more," said the red-headed man. "I used to go to school with Pete Henderson."
 "Yes? Well, Pete is the only one that has turned out lazy. All he's ever done was to marry a widow worth $200,000 and ride around in an auto!"

TWO KINDS.

Swift—I understand the strong man in the circus has the grip.
 Smith—Yep. He's got it in the head and lost it in his hands.

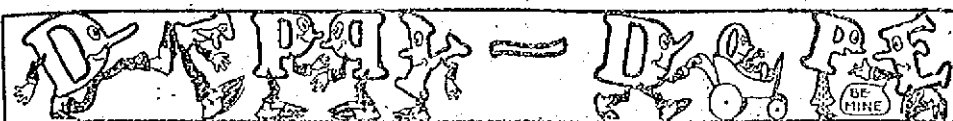

SCARED INTO IT.

Dorothy—But how on earth did you get him to propose?
 Lorena—Oh, easily enough. I told him you were crazy about him and reminded him that this was May-day.

A CONSERVATIVE.

SHE had given the grocer an order for a quart of potatoes, a head of lettuce and two carrots, when he said:
 "Madam, let me tell you something in your own interest."
 "Yes?"
 "When you buy in small quantities you have to pay increased prices."
 "Yes, I know."
 "If you bought a peck of potatoes instead of a quart—"
 "But you know I'm a conservative woman, sir."
 "How do you mean?"
 "This is presidential election year."
 "It is."
 "The Republican candidate is going to promise us cheaper potatoes."
 "Very likely."
 "And the Democrat will promise cheaper carrots."

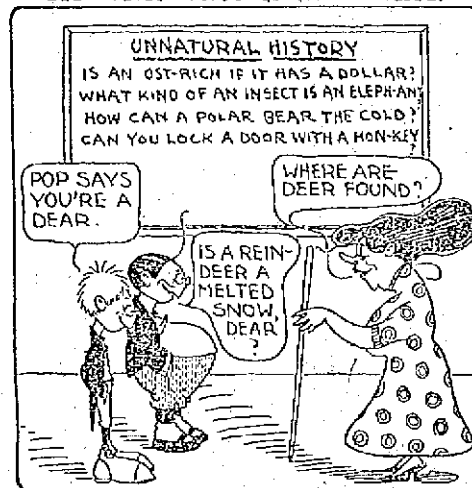

"Most probable."
 "And I'll be me that finds herself with a high-priced stock on hand to unload on a falling market and have my husband say I'd better stick to the wash-tub and let him do the financing. Oh, no, sir. I'll take chances on a head of lettuce, but I'm the Mary Ann that don't make any wild plunges."

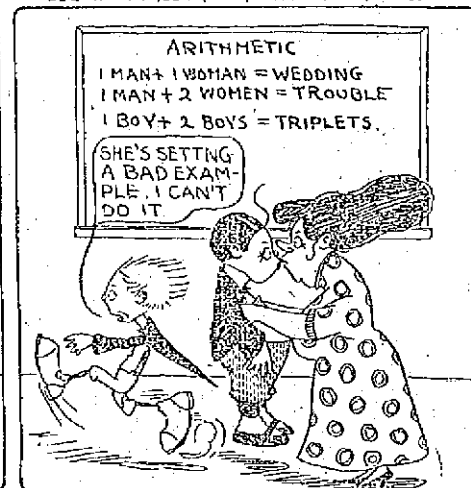

MY BROTHER BILL WAS BIG AND FAT WHILE I WAS BATHING SLIM. BUT I HAD JUST AS FAT A HEAD AS THAT THAT GREW ON HIM.

WE WENT TO SCHOOL MOST EVERY DAY WE LEARNED ARITHMETIC—WE LEARNED TO WRITE RIGHT, RIGHT AWAY AT SPELLING WE WERE SLICK.

OUR TEACHER—SHE WAS VERY NICE, IF YOU JOLLIED HER ALONG. AND THAT IS WHAT MY BROTHER DID, WHEN HE HAD HIS LESSONS WRONG.

SHE SET A BAD EXAMPLE ONCE. I BEAT IT VERY QUICK. BUT EVER AFTER THAT MY BROTHER LIKED ARITHMETIC.

NOT THAT NIGHT.

ONE night last winter," said the Boston drummer, "when there was three feet of snow on the ground and more coming, I was the only guest at a tavern in a Vermont village. The storm was growing worse every minute when a man came in and wanted to use the telephone. He was new to the instrument and asked me to talk for him. Of course I consented, and the first thing to do was to call up a preacher seven miles away. Then he was asked to come to the village and marry the man."

"But we've got a regular old billiard going," he replied.

"I told him that mustn't delay the marriage."

"Suppose I got stuck in a snow-drift when half-way?" he suggested.

"I replied that a good horse ought to pull him through."

"Ask Caleb what he's ready to give?" instructed the good man.

"I held a conference with Caleb and then answered:

"He says fifty cents."

"I won't do it!"

"He'll make it seventy-five if you hurry."

"It's worth more."

"He's gone up to eighty."

"Tain't enough. I'd have to stop all night at the tavern."

"I held another conference with Caleb and then shot the words over the wire:

"He says $2 cents is his limit."

"Tell him to make it $5."

"He won't do it."

"Then tell Caleb Nanwert to go to—!"

A SURE TEST.

It's easy to smile when things go right.

And everything comes your way:

When life glides along in a sweet song.

And the sun ever brightens your day.

It's easy, I say, to smile just then.

You need have occasion to frown;

But the fellow worth while.

Is the one who can smile

When his "best girl" turns him down.

"To go to where?" was asked of the drummer.

"We shall never know," he replied.

"At that critical moment the wires went down!"

BIG MEN VS. STRAWBERRIES.

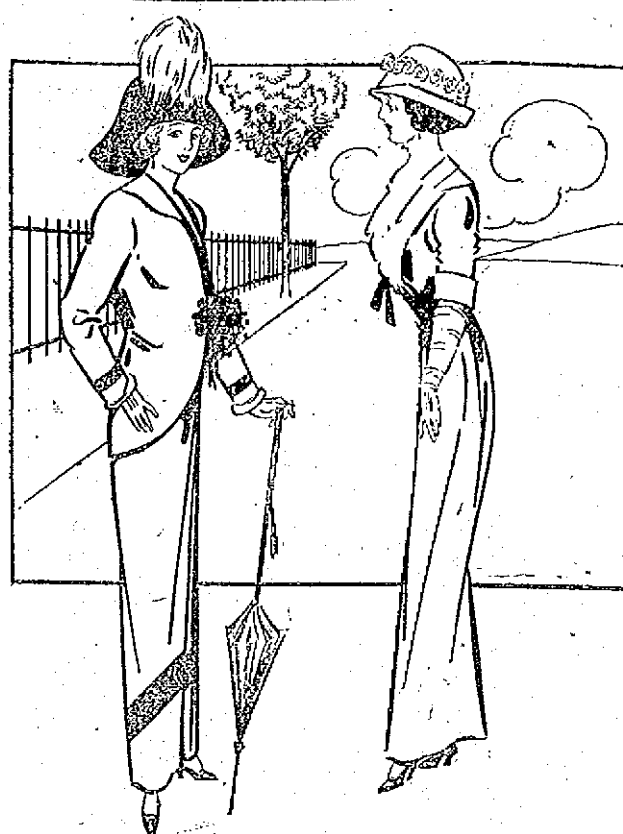

Hook—The big men always get to the top, don't they?

Cook—Yep. The same as the big strawberries in a farmer's crate.

THE USUAL TIME.

Jiggs—How long did it take you to catch all these fish?
 Aggie—About ten bottles of beer, a pint of whiskey and six cigars.

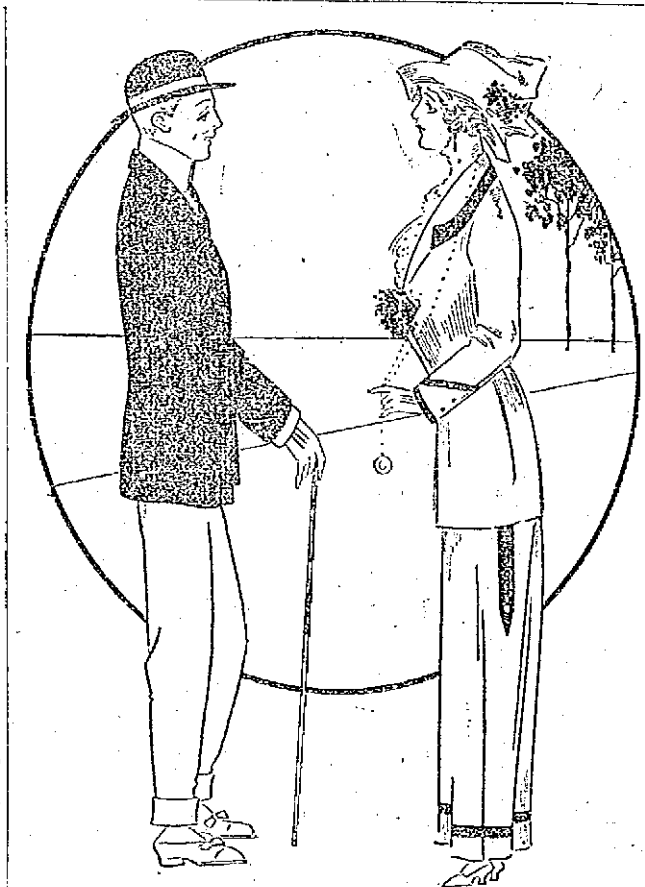

WHEN WOMEN VOTE.

I think they will nominate a dark horse for president.
 Well, if they nominate a brunette for president, I hope that they will know enough to nominate a blonde for vice-president.

AN INVENTOR.

Yessum, I'm working on a problem dat'll benefit de human race.
 What is that, my man?
 I'm tryin' to find some way to utilize de vacant spaces in picket fences.

DID HE CATCHER?

Frank—Let's go to the baseball game today. I have engaged a box.
 Helen—Oh, how lovely! The pitcher's box?

Just Be Calm.

THE jury in the Beef Trust suit will not be tried as incompetents. Mr. Roosevelt won't hang himself if beaten.

Taft will weigh no more if re-elected.

Beefsteak won't go over 40 cents per pound.

The hens are getting down to business.

You can now get a piano by paying ten cents a week.

There has been a reduction on diamonds.

You can pawn your overcoat any time now.

The Tobacco Trust is being good.

Peanuts are going to be plentiful this year.

The baseball season has opened with a bang.

The peach buds have not been killed.

Wall street hasn't found a sucker in four weeks.

All the hotels are now furnishing two towels to a guest.

No one has seen a mad dog this spring.

Frog's legs are cheaper than ever before.

And there's lots of other things to make us calm and happy and enthusiastic, and you just take a brace on yourself and come into the gang.

They Drank on That.

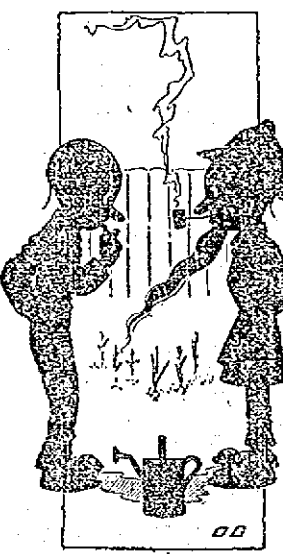

I WAS traveling through Texas in company with an Englishman," said the Colonel, "and the many tough men we met may have surprised, but did not dismay him. A dozen times over I thought his plain speaking would bring on a shooting-match, but he always managed to get out of it and save his honor to boot."

"One day in a small town we heard a gun-man telling a mighty tough yarn. It was full of blood and killing, and of course he was the hero. I let it go for what it was worth, of course, but the Englishman didn't. When the tale had been finished he stepped forward and said:

"Sir, I have listened to your story, and it is without the slightest hesitation whatever that I denounce you as a reprehensible provocator and unworthy of credence."

"I expected the tough to draw and shoot, but he made no move to do so. That high-flown language was 'way beyond him, and after puzzling over it for a long minute he took off his hat and bowed to us and said:

"Why, yes, gents—bein' it's my time o' day to hicker up I'll take a nip with yo' to show there's no hard feelings!"

GOOD, INDEED.

Hiram—Them's awful puny little plants you've got in your garden. Are you sure your seed was good?
 Suburbs—Good! Why, say, the chickens were crazy about them.

City Wants To Borrow $700,000

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL DISCUSSED TEMPORARY LOAN QUESTION

Petition is to be Presented to the State Legislature Asking the Privilege to Borrow $700,000 to Cover Temporary Loan

At a meeting of the municipal council held this afternoon Alderman Brown's order for the transfer of the balance of the Huntington hall money to the city treasury in order to secure a better rate of interest, was taken up but was put over until definite action has been taken on the report of the expert accountant, George M. Rex. The report has not yet been accepted by the municipal council.

Mayor O'Donnell called to order at 2:30 with all members present.

Several petitions for water attachments and pole locations were read and referred to the proper committee.

The mayor read a communication from Dr. Chas. H. Stowell relative to the mayor's conference with the trustees of the Lowell General Hospital as to the proposition to erect a hospital for contagious diseases on land adjacent to the Lowell General Hospital.

The next was a communication from Commissioner Geo. H. Brown relative to the transfer of the balance of the Huntington hall insurance money from the treasurer's office to a bank or banks where a better rate of interest is obtainable.

Commissioner Brown moved that the order accompanying the communication be adopted. The motion was not seconded.

Ald. Barrett said that while he was in sympathy with Mr. Brown's order and motion, he thought that the order was a little premature inasmuch as the report of the expert accountant who went over the financial books of the city had not yet been accepted by the municipal council.

Ald. Brown said that the money should be loaned. "We should have that money," he said, "and it is but fair to that fund, the Huntington hall fund, that the money be set aside at interest. I do not believe it is necessary for us to go out of the city for an expert to tell us if we have the $49,000. Some say we have it and others say we haven't it, and I introduced this order for the purpose of finding out if the money is still intact."

Ald. Barrett said he was quite sure that the $49,000 is not in the possession of the city treasurer, but he wanted to have official knowledge of that fact before further action was taken.

"I want to say," said Mr. Barrett, "that whether or not it is discovered that the $49,000 is intact, the action to follow may be more important than the presence or absence of the money. We are certainly not in a position to pass the order submitted by my brother Alderman at the present time and I would ask Alderman Brown if he intends to vote for the acceptance of the expert's report?"

"I do not see that the acceptance of the report has anything to do with the order," said Mr. Brown. "It is my desire to find out if the money is still in the city treasury."

Wants Expert to Return

Alderman Donnelly said it was his intention to ask the council to take action on the matter of having the expert, Mr. Rex, spend another day with the council for the purpose of showing where the $49,000 has gone.

Alderman Cummings suggested that the expert be requested to come to Lowell on Friday next for the purpose of going over his report more fully and to explain about the $49,000.

At this point a recess was taken.

After the recess it was voted to ask Mr. Rex to come to Lowell on Friday at 10 a. m.

On motion of Alderman Brown, his order for the transfer of the Huntington hall money was laid on the table until Friday morning.

A petition from the Bay State Street Railway company for pole relocations in Tyngs street was referred to Commissioners Cummings and Brown.

Titanic at eight o'clock. Second Officer Lightoller, who was in charge sent a message to the carpenter to look out for his fresh water, for it was going to freeze. He heard Lightoller through the telephone give an order to the men in the crow's nest to keep a sharp lookout for ice and growlers.

Hickens went on duty at the wheel at 11:10 o'clock. Closely questioned by Sir Rufus Isaacs on the point of the speed of the Titanic, Hickens testified that the log book showed it to have been 45 knots in two hours and that there was no change up to the time that the Titanic struck the berg at 11:40.

AN ADDITION TO GREENHALGE SCHOOL

To be Asked for by Residents of West Centralville Who Say That the School is Overcrowded at the Present Time

The residents of West Centralville are starting a movement for an addition to the Greenhalge grammar school in Etnell street. The school is practically too small for the large number of pupils who desire to attend class there, and it is said many are being turned away every day for lack of room. This question was brought before the public by Principal Wood at the annual banquet of Hose Co. No. 12 last December, when he spoke on the welfare of that part of the city. Mr. Wood at that time said the building was not large enough for its needs and that four more rooms were required. The school now has 10 class rooms with an attendance of nearly 300 boys and girls. All the grades but the higher are overcrowded and many pupils are being constantly refused for lack of room. The building, it is said, was built in a way that additional classes can be put on easily, and there is plenty of land to answer that purpose. There is only one other school in that district and that is St. Louis' parochial school, which is also inadequate for the large number of pupils, and the residents of that section feel that they ought to be given as good school accommodation as in any other part of the city, and therefore they are going to circulate a petition among the voters of the district in order to learn the public sentiment in regard to enlarging the school. They feel that they are not asking too much, for the number of children is increasing every day, and the latter cannot afford to go across the river to school, which is being done in many cases.

BOULEVARD WELLS NOT WORKING YET

Late Arrival of Castings Cause of Delay

The work of putting into operation the new boulevard wells is being somewhat delayed because of the late arrival of castings and other things that were ordered some time ago. Commissioner Barrett is very anxious to get the new wells started. He says that the old wells need a rest and perhaps a change of position. The old boulevard wells have not been able to supply the great demand for water during the last few months. Owing to the continuance of cold weather the consumption this winter and spring was greater than in previous years and has averaged nearly 7,000,000 gallons a day. The Cook wells have helped out at times but as they can be operated only for a few weeks at a time they are not looked upon as steady help. After the new boulevard wells have been connected the old boulevard wells will be cut off and the probabilities are that they will be changed around more or less.

LOWELL MAN ARRESTED UNDER WHITE SLAVE LAW

It is Alleged That He Deserted Young Woman and Her Child in Chicago

Leonidas Liapes, formerly a Greek resident of Lowell, was brought to Boston yesterday from Peoria, Ill., to answer a charge of violating the white slave law in connection with the courtship and alleged desertion of Marianna Bacos, a mill girl of Lowell. Liapes, it is charged, induced the girl to go to Chicago for the purpose of getting married. Out of $100 which she had in the bank in Lowell, she drew $50 and went to Chicago. Liapes, it is charged, kept postponing the ceremony. Later they removed to Milwaukee where a child was born to them. As soon as the mother was able to leave the hospital, Liapes, it is charged, took her to Chicago on the pretense of securing clothes for the baby and there placed her on an east-bound train with a ticket to Lowell and $1 bill in her hand. That is the last the young woman saw of Liapes or her baby. She had left the child in the boarding house where they were living.

Liapes was held in $2000 bail when brought before Judge Dodge in Boston yesterday.

BULK OF THE ASTOR MILLIONS

to His Son Vincent

NEW YORK, May 7.—Counsel for the family made public last night the will of John Jacob Astor, as drawn in this city last September, only a few days after his marriage to Miss Madeleine Talmage Force and approximately seven months before he perished with the sinking of the Titanic.

Vincent Astor, a son, who will come of age within the year, is made the principal beneficiary and residuary legatee. Nothing as to the value of the great estate is given, and by the creation of trust funds the testator has followed as far as possible the customs of his forbears in keeping the vast Astor real estate holdings intact.

Valuations of the estate run anywhere from $75,000,000 to $150,000,000. A close friend of the family said last night that in his opinion the smaller figure was nearer the correct estimate. Aside from provisions for Vincent Astor, the will provides for unconditional bequests of only $276,500. Among these there is but one of a charitable nature. This is $50,000 to St. Paul's school at Concord, N. H. The remainder of the bequests are to relatives, friends and faithful servants.

Nearly all the other provisions of the will, as made public, deal with the trust funds, of which there are three—$5,000,000 for the young widow; $5,000,000 for the colonel's young daughter, Muriel, the child of his former wife, Ava Whiting Astor, and $3,000,000 for the expected posthumous child of the present widow. This last clause provides for each child who shall survive the testator other than his son, William Vincent, and his daughter, Ava Alice Muriel.

No provision whatsoever is made for the wife who divorced him; if the young widow dies or marries again, the $5,000,000 trust fund, and the town house and other property left to her reverts to Vincent Astor.

—De Mar in Philadelphia Record.

She receives, further, however, $100,000 outright, without further stipulation; and until the income from the trust fund shall become available, the trustees are directed to pay her an income of $200,000 a year.

There was an antenuptial settlement which she accepted in lieu of dower rights. The amount of this has never been made public. Rumors have placed it at $5,000,000.

The colonel gives the trustees minute directions relative to making investments, following almost word for word the instructions of similar nature left by his father, William Astor. All bequests are made tax free, the taxes to be paid out of the residuary estate.

As to proper investments, he cites, among other things, real estate, railroad securities and large public debts of the United States, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Bequests to Son

The most important provisions of the will are as follows:

(1) To his son, William Vincent Astor, outright, the following property:

A—All the lands and personal property at Rhinebeck, N. Y., over which the testator was given a power of appointment by his father's will.

B—All the lands and personal property at Rhinebeck which belonged to him absolutely at the time of his death.

C—The house and grounds at Newport, R. I., with all personal property therein over which he had a power of appointment under his father's will.

D—All the pictures and statuary left to him for life by his father's will with power of appointment.

E—All his jewelry, wearing apparel, personal effects, yachts and boats.

Provisions for Widow

(2) To his widow, Madeleine Talmage Force Astor, the town house and stable at the corner of Fifth avenue and 65th street, together with books, paintings, pictures, engravings, marbles, bronzes, statuary and objects of art, plate and silverware, ware, linen, china, glass, household effects, useful and ornamental, therein contained and not herein above otherwise disposed of, to have and to hold the same for so long during her life as she shall remain his widow, and upon her death or remarriage all this property is bequeathed to the testator's son, William Vincent Astor.

These provisions for his widow are made in lieu of dower and all other claim upon his estate, and until the trust fund of $5,000,000 is set up the executors are directed to pay to her an income at the rate of $200,000 a year.

Upon attaining the age of 21 the daughter is to receive this fund with its accumulations absolutely. In case of her death under 21 years, it goes accordingly to her will, and in default of a will, then into her issue, if any; and in default of a will or issue surviving her, then to William Vincent Astor.

$5,000,000 for Posthumous Child

(6) A trust fund of $5,000,000 is created for the benefit of each child who shall survive the testator other than his son, William Vincent Astor, and his daughter, Ava Alice Muriel Astor, to be held in trust for each child until attaining the age of 21 years, with similar provisions as to the disposition of the fund in the event of the death of the child under 21 as are above set forth in connection with the trust for the daughter.

GREEK EMPLOYES

TO JOIN THE I. W. W.

Big Meeting to be Held
This Evening

The employees who were locked out of the Merrimack mills at 1 o'clock yesterday, who were mostly Greeks, went to the office of Dr. Geo. Demopoulos and asked for advice. He asked what the trouble was and they told him, as was stated in yesterday's Sun. They said that the mill men discriminated against them. The doctor said that he thought that this treatment was an injustice. "In the strike," he said, "I advised the Greeks to keep away from the picket line and also the I. W. W. This I think was beneficial to the mills. Now when the strike is over, the Greeks are being imposed upon. Well, they will not be for I will advise them to become members of the I. W. W."

"I think," the speaker continued, "that the people of the city fully realize the conditions and will not place any blame upon my shoulders. I worked hard to keep the Greeks in order during the time that they were out of work. They did well, according to the papers and all the people I have talked with. Now, as I have not the time to give to the situation, I will turn them over to the I. W. W. and will also join it myself."

True to his statement, all who were out went to the headquarters of the I. W. W. last evening and became members, as did the doctor.

A SAFE EASY WAY TO GAIN FLESH QUICKLY

Amazing Increase in Weight Brought by Physicians' Fortunate Discovery

Medical men everywhere have been commenting upon the remarkable results of a well-known physician, that was recently recorded in a prominent medical publication. By administering a combination of standard harmless pharmaceutical drugs in a manner he had never used before, Dr. Horace Edwards succeeded in increasing a patient's weight from 111 to 135 pounds in ten weeks—a clear gain of 24 pounds or nearly 15 lbs. a week. A large number of experiments both by physicians and this people who desired to put on flesh quickly, have followed the publication of this case report, and have brought most remarkable results, indicating that a judicious combination of Fluid Saltoyrn, Calissaya and Cardamoms will in practically any case enable a person to gain flesh at the rate of 2 to 3 lbs. a week. The exact prescription used and recommended by Dr. Edwards was 2 oz. Tincture of Cardamoms, 2 oz. Elixir of Calissaya, 2 oz. Fluid Saltoyrn and 2 oz. water—all easily obtainable at slight expense from any druggist. Directions: Ask the druggist to mix all the ingredients except the Saltoyrn in an 8 oz. bottle and give you the Saltoyrn separately. When you get home add half the Saltoyrn. After taking three doses pour in the remainder of the Saltoyrn and continue taking as before. Dose: Two tablespoonfuls twenty minutes before meals. The resulting increase in weight can easily be checked when the patient desires by merely stopping the treatment. Calissaya, Cardamoms and Saltoyrn are all standard drugs regularly carried in stock by the best druggists of this city. One firm, Hall & Lyon, states that probably not a day goes by that they are not called upon to fill prescriptions containing them. Concerning their use a well-known medical man says: "Although every physician knows the above drugs are so efficacious for relieving indigestion, nervousness, catarrh, etc., they should never be used for these purposes in the combination outlined above except where the patient also wishes to increase in weight."

enjoyed a day of recreation and rest. A diversified program had been mapped out for him, official business having no place on it.

In the morning the president held an informal reception for his many friends made during his period of residence here.

In the afternoon the chief executive planned to occupy a box at the Cincinnati-Philadelphia baseball game. This evening Mr. Taft will attend the opening of the Cincinnati May musical festival. While it is the custom of both himself and Mrs. Taft to remain through the musical season he will be able to attend only on the opening night, the political campaign through Ohio necessitating the cutting short of his stay here. Mrs. Taft, however, will remain to the end of the festival.

REPORT OF DR. BRIGGS ON RICHESON'S CONDITION

Will be Sent to Governor Foss
the Latter Part of the Week
and May Favor Prisoner

BOSTON, May 7.—If the decree of the court is carried out to the letter, Clarence V. T. Richeson will be removed from his quarters in the Charles street jail to the state prison at Charlestown, where he is sentenced to suffer death by electrocution during the week beginning May 19.

The law prescribes that a condemned murderer must be removed to the death cell in the state prison "10 days before the date of the execution," but there is some doubt as to the exact date of Richeson's removal from the Charles street jail.

Hon. William A. Morse, of Richeson's counsel, will make a strong appeal to Gov. Foss to allow Richeson to remain at the county jail for the present, but Sheriff John Quinn, Jr. may decide, in the absence of official notification from the governor to remove his prisoner to Charlestown early Thursday morning, or he may decide to postpone the removal until later in the week.

The utmost precaution, however, will attend Richeson's removal, and the hour chosen will undoubtedly be one when few people are astir in the vicinity of the jail or the prison.

What disposition Gov. Foss will make on the petition filed with him by Messrs. Morse, Lee and Dunbar in behalf of Richeson, asking for commutation of sentence, is now of paramount interest.

That the governor is proceeding carefully in the matter is evidenced by his employment of Dr. Lloyd V. Briggs, an alienist, to make a report of the prisoner, following the report of Dr. Lane on Richeson's mental condition at the request of his counsel and following John T. Lee's submitting affidavits of the prevalence of insanity in the Richeson family.

Dr. Briggs visited the Charles street jail Thursday afternoon and passed considerable time with Richeson in his cell. So great was the precaution taken by the jail officials that no one, except the alienist and the attendants, were allowed in the corridor in which Richeson's cell is situated, and even Harry Butts, the constant companion of Richeson, was removed temporarily.

It was apparent that Dr. Briggs had been instructed by Gov. Foss to make as comprehensive an examination of the condemned man as possible.

Last night when Dr. Briggs was asked about the matter he would not discuss it further than to say he had visited the prisoner but had not yet made his report.

"When will you submit your report to the governor?" he was asked.

"That I cannot tell now," replied the alienist. "It will not be ready, probably until late in the week."

This assertion would tend to the belief that the appeal for commutation of sentence will not be reached until after Richeson has been transferred to Charlestown.

As Dr. Briggs' report will not be ready in time to allow Governor Foss to examine it today, or even tomorrow, it is practically certain that the case will not be included in the matters which will be referred to the executive council when it meets tomorrow, and it is likely then, that if the governor decides to refer the petition to his council, it will not be until later in the day, when a special meeting may be held, or at next Wednesday's regular meeting.

It was learned last night that a photographer made pictures of Richeson in his cell last week, but what the significance of the photographer's visit was a mystery. The photographer made several negatives of Richeson in various attitudes, and several plates were used in getting pictures of Richeson's head. It is said that the visit of the photographer was due to a request made by the prisoner's counsel, and in view of the fact that a phrenologist of high standing has several times communicated with Richeson's lawyers, it is thought that the peculiarities of Richeson's head may figure in any hearing that may be held in support of the insanity plea of the counsel.

Yesterday it was said at the state house that if the Richeson case is referred to the executive committee, the hearings will be private.

Hitte Defeated
BY "BOB" MOHA

Albany Boxer Was Given a Bad Beating

ALBANY, N. Y., May 7.—Bob Moha, the Milwaukee wild cat, did almost everything to Charlie Hitte, Albany's favorite son, in their 10-round bout at the Knickerbocker A. C. last night, but he could not knock the Albanian out. Hitte, after more than a year's retirement, tried to come back. Moha, seemingly, took pity on him and allowed him to stick the distance.

In the semi-final, Frankie Maloney of Boston was disqualified and driven from the ring in the fourth round of his battle with Charlie White of Albany. Maloney was repeatedly warned for hitting low. He had the better of the clean fighting. In the second semi-final, Jim Barry of Waterbury, Conn., held George Cohan of Albany to a draw in six rounds.

KENNEDY DEFEATED
BALTIMORE, May 7.—Battling Kennedy of New York proved to be easy for George Chaney of this city last night. Chaney scored a knockout in the fourth round of a scheduled 15-round bout.

In the opening round the local boy showed his opponent with rights and lefts to the face and stomach and had him in a pretty bad state at the end of this session. In the third Kennedy was felled for the count of nine with a hard right jab. He came back staggering in the fourth and Chaney, with a well-timed right, sent him to Slumberland.

$250,000 DAMAGE
CAUSED BY FIRE

That Broke Out in New York Today

NEW YORK, May 7.—Fifteen hundred persons were routed from their beds in lodging houses along East 23rd street today following the sounding of four alarms for a fire in a six-story loft building near the corner of Second avenue. Many of those who were hurried to the streets by the firemen found themselves shivering in the rain with raiment so scant that hospital ambulances were called to escort them to shelter.

The fire after a two hours' fight was confined to the loft building with a loss of about $250,000. There was also some damage from smoke and water to the lodging house.

FIGHT TO FINISH
EXPECTED IN DEMOCRATIC CON-VENTION IN HARRISBURG

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 7.—After much preliminary skirmishing, the democratic factions which for two years have been fighting for control of the state organization were scheduled to meet today for a fight to a finish. The state committees have agreed to abide by the action of the majority of delegates in convention.

The "reorganizers" are being led by George W. Guthrie, former mayor of Pittsburgh and Congressman Mitchell Palmer of Stroudsburg.

The "regulars" have not named a ticket as yet.

Both factions have endorsed Governor Wilson of New Jersey for the democratic presidential nomination.

The "reorganizers" have given out an outline of their platform. It endorses the initiative and referendum and declares that the judiciary shall be stripped of any legislative or executive powers it may have.

MADE A RECORD
NOT A DRINK SOLD ON COLUMBIA DURING TRIP

NEW YORK, May 7.—Records of all kinds have been claimed by steamships coming into port but none more strange than the boast of the Columbia of the Anchor line, which has just completed a trip from Glasgow without having sold a drink during the entire voyage. There was plenty to drink on board, but all the passengers were teetotalers.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

A man on a motor cycle met with accident in the Gorton road yesterday just as he came to the house of John Vinal. Mr. Vinal, who is well acquainted with the parts of the machine, went to the man's assistance. The latter, upon learning that Mr. Vinal would repair the machine asked him to change a ten dollar bill so he could pay him. Mr. Vinal gave him the change and started to work on the machine. Upon finishing the job, the rider started off. When he had gone Mr. Vinal discovered that though he had given the change of the ten he got no "come back." He was in a quandary. Mrs. Vinal, who was present during the "operation," heard the cyclist say that he was going to Lynn and intended to pass through Reading. She got busy and called up the Reading police. The sherlocks of the town got to it and shortly after the call on the telephone they found the man coming down the homestretch at a fast clip. He was held up and questioned, and said that it was just a case of forgetfulness. He produced the ten spot, the Vinals were notified that the money was in the possession of the police and they arrived at the conclusion that it was a mistake.

A largely attended meeting of the Catholic club was held in the town hall Sunday evening.

The Day Christ club will have "guest night" this evening. The affair will be held in the vestry of the Congregational church.

The Chelmsford board of trade meets tonight.

A NEW FACE WITHOUT
SURGICAL SKIN PEELING

"I do not approve of the surgical operation of face peeling," says Julia Orr. "It's too radical, too often dangerous. There's a better way of removing offensive complexion and one that is entirely safe and rational. Ordinary mercurized wax causes the de-stabilized scar skin to come off, but gradually and gently. Unlike the surgical process, the skin is not forcibly taken off in big pieces all at once, but almost invisible flaky particles are absorbed by the wax, and from ten days to two weeks are required to complete the transformation. There's no pain, no discomfort. Nature renews complexion the same way, shedding flaky cutaneous scales day by day. But deficient circulation, or other abnormal condition, may interfere with the shedding—a 'bad complexion' results. That mercurized wax assists Nature by hastening the removal of the aged, faded or discolored top skin. Thus only the lively, young, healthy-hued skin is in evidence, as in robust girlhood. This is why mercurized wax produces the indescribable beauty of ever-renewing youth. The wax is put on at night like cold cream, and washed off in the morning. You can procure it at any druggist; an ounce is sufficient."

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM

BY A SPECIALIST

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hairgrowth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you. 8 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavender Compound, one half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly and after standing half an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of Pe-Kalon Perfum, which unites perfectly with the ingredients. While this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

Caution: Do not apply where hair is not desired and be sure to avoid tonics containing poisonous wood alcohol.

Before publication we presented this prescription at Hall & Lyon's drug store, this city, and they state that they have filled it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.

INSANE MAN USED GUN IN ATTACK ON SERVANT

Tragedy Averted at Dover, N. H., by Unsteadiness of the Infuriated Man

DOVER, N. H., May 7.—A near tragedy at the hands of an insane man, Edward P. Kennard, formerly of Boston, occurred at the "Old Homestead," on the Dover Point road, where Kennard resides Sunday afternoon. With a revolver which John Roach, a servant, had just cleaned and loaded at Kennard's order, Kennard opened fire on Roach with the remark, "It goes all right, doesn't it?"

Two shots were fired at Roach and only Kennard's unsteadiness of aim saved Roach from being hit. A bullet grazed one of Roach's legs.

Roach and the householder as soon as the firing began fled to the house of Charles S. Roberts. He and another neighbor telephoned for the police. City Marshal Adams lost no time in getting a warrant ready and starting for Kennard's place in an automobile

WEAVERS ON PARADE AT CLINTON TODAY

They Threaten to Extend the Strike

CLINTON, May 7.—After picketing the gates of the Lancaster Gingham mills today 200 of the striking weavers paraded by other local factories in an attempt to spread the strike among the employees of the various mills. The paraders carried a big bass drum and the notes of a bugle also attracted attention to the marchers more than half of whom were women or girls. The leaders of the I. W. W., who are in charge of the strike, have announced their intention of spreading the strike to the other factories in town if the trouble at the Lancaster mills is not adjusted before the end of the present week.

Today was pay day at the mills and the workers came to the mills to receive their envelopes.

WILL OBSERVE PEACE DAY MAY 18 IS A NOTABLE DATE

The Anniversary of the First International Peace Conference Will be Widely Observed in the Schools of This City

A sufficient number of copies of Peace Day suggestions and material for its observance in the schools to supply all the schools in Lowell have been received by Supt. Whitcomb and they will be of great assistance to teachers in preparing programs for the day.

It was in 1864 that Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown, commissioner of education, recommended that the 18th day of May, the anniversary of the assembling of the First Peace conference at The Hague, should be observed as Peace Day in the schools.

One of the most effective ways of fixing the attention of the children and making lasting impressions on their minds is through well arranged and attractive programs for days set apart for special purposes and to offer assistance to teachers and others in the formulation of programs is a proper function of the bureau of education.

Teachers' Meeting

A meeting of teachers will be held in high school hall Thursday afternoon, May 9, at 4.15 o'clock. The speaker will be Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead. She will precede her address by a general talk on the international peace movement and will then speak more at length of its educational phase. Her lecture will be a timely help to the proper observance of Peace Day, May 18, and it has been arranged that teachers whose schools are far from the hall may close early enough to be at the meeting at the time named.

The anniversary of Peace Day is to be much more observed here than ever before in all civilized lands and Supt. Whitcomb hopes that all teachers will do what they can to forward the time when this will be the most significant of all school anniversaries, with the single exception of Christmas.

Significance of Peace Day
On May 18, 1899, an event took place which will always be remembered as a landmark in the history of mankind. Unlike most of the world's happenings, this occurrence affects equally every civilized nation on the globe, and it is necessary, therefore, that everybody should understand its meaning. The anniversary of the establishment of the Hague tribunal has been observed in many countries, and, like Christmas, the eighteenth of May is destined to become a great international day, which will proclaim good will among all men. Mrs. Fannie Fern Andrews, writing on the significance of May 18, says: "In August, 1898, people all over the world were surprised by a letter which the czar addressed to the nations that were represented at the Russian court. This letter was an invitation to send delegates to a meeting, which should consider what could be done to keep nations from going to war which each other. For the best welfare of the world, the nations ought to restrict themselves in the spending of such enormous sums of money for armies and navies."

The Czar's Plan for Peace

The czar had been considering this matter for some time. He, however, was not the only ruler who had thought seriously about this condition of affairs, and his invitation to attend a peace conference met with unanimous response. Every government invited accepted, and this included all the nations of Europe, 20 in number, 4 from Asia, and 2 in America, the United States and Mexico.

On account of the unique nature of the conference, the czar thought it best not to hold it in the capital of any one of the great powers, where so many political interests are centered. He felt that this might hinder the work in which all the countries of the world were equally interested. Holland was selected as the country most admirably adapted for a such a meeting. It was announced to the governments that the queen of the Netherlands would offer hospitality to the conference, and accordingly the Netherlands minister of foreign affairs sent out a formal invitation to the governments to meet at The Hague.

The Young Queen's Invitation

The young queen, who was then only 18 years old, to show her appreciation of the honor conferred upon her country, and of the deep meaning of the conference, placed at its disposal the most beautiful and historic building in the land. The conference was therefore held in this widely famed house in the woods, formerly the summer residence of the royal family, situated in a very beautiful park about a mile from the city.

This was a most remarkable gathering, for each nation had sent its greatest statesmen. Then, too, it was the first time in the world's history that a peace conference had been held by the nations.

Choosing an Umpire

The key to the whole subject, and that which became the most important part of the program, is how to end a dispute before war begins. Many differences between nations have been settled without war by calling in a third party, just as an umpire on the ball field is called upon to decide which side is in the right. Wouldn't it look ridiculous if the two teams in a ball game should every time a disputed point arose, stop the game and go to fighting to settle the matter? And how would it look to the spectators to see the advantage given to a side merely because it was stronger in the first scramble? And yet this is exactly what nations do which go to war to settle disputes. How stupid to think that might can settle who is in the right.

War No Longer Necessary

These great statesmen at The Hague, who composed the third committee, recognized the folly of such a method of settling disputes and adopted a plan which encourages the nations to refer all their disputes to an umpire or arbitrator in other words, to submit their differences to arbitration. In fact, the plan which this committee adopted makes it absolutely unnecessary for nations to go to war with each other in the future. What an important plan. To save for the people of the world $200,000,000 a year, not to speak of the suffering and misery which was always bring. In the nineteenth century more than 14,000,000 able-bodied men were sacrificed in war.

The committee on arbitration divided its work into three parts. It said, first, that if two nations have a dispute, serious enough to cause war, they might call in another nation or nations who would view the matter with their impartial light and thus try to bring about a friendly settlement. A further important statement was made—that one or more powers, strangers to the dispute, might of their own free will offer their assistance. This provision, called "Special Mediation by Neutral Powers," certainly meant a great change in the attitude of nations to each other.

MISS EVA PICKLES GOES TO ALBERTA

To Become the Bride of Arthur Emmett

Miss Eva Pickles of 1198 Lawrence street this city was one of the happiest persons ever seen at the depot. She was there today and was preparing to board the 10.38 train when a reporter of The Sun happened along. He learned that she is on her way to Vegreville, Alberta, to join her sweetheart whom she will wed there next month. The lucky man is Arthur Emmett, a very prosperous businessman in Vegreville. He is wealthy and owns considerable property throughout the west.

Miss Pickles who was born in New Jersey, came to Lowell about twelve years ago and secured employment in the Burlington Co. mill. She was very popular with her schoolmates from the beginning and when the latter heard of her romance they arranged to give her a send off. Last Thursday evening about fifty of her friends called at her home in Lawrence street and tendered her a farewell reception. During the evening Miss Pickles was presented several beautiful gifts.

Today Miss Pickles was given another send off at the depot. A number of friends were there and when she boarded the train at 10.38 all bid her goodbye.

BUSINESS RUSHING IN THE SHOE SHOPS

New Plant Employs 300 Operatives

HIGH CLASS GOODS ARE MADE THERE

Other News of the Shoe Trade

The shoe industry in this city is increasing every day, and the manufacturers are beginning to realize that Lowell is a good centre for this kind of business. At the present time there are about twelve shoe factories in this city, all active and turning out a considerable amount of work. Some specialize in fancy shoes, while others which are in the majority are turning out the ordinary wearing shoe.

One of the busiest plants in Lowell, however, despite the fact that it has been organized but a few months, is the Dudley, Mears & Stevens shoe Co., Inc., in Broadway. This company was organized last October with a capital of $50,000 by Messrs. A. K. Stevens, Ralph Mears and H. H. Dudley. Previous to going into the shoe manufacturing business Mr. Stevens was superintendent of the Fish & Shovel Leather Co. in Brockton. He has had considerable experience in his line and is the right man in the right place, as general manager of the company he is interested in. He is making his home in this city and is well satisfied with the way business has progressed in Lowell.

Mr. Mears who is president of the company was formerly a travelling shoe salesman and will be a valuable man in the new plant. Mr. Dudley was in the shoe business before entering the shoe business, but he is satisfied with the change. He is treasurer of the corporation.

When these three men formed the company they found a desirable building in this city at 522 Broadway, and immediately leased it. They installed new machinery and now occupy the entire building, three floors. Their plant is fine leather shoes for men, both tan and black, and when they first started they turned out 25 dozen shoes or 300 pairs, but business has been so good, that that amount has been doubled. The help are mostly all Lowell people with the exception of the foremen.

Mr. Stevens stated this morning that they encountered a little difficulty when they first started, for the Lowell shoe workers were not accustomed to the kind of work the factory is turning out, but now all this is overcome and everything is running smoothly. The weekly pay roll of the company is $1200 and despite the fact that the majority of the out-of-town shops are down flat, the Dudley, Mears & Stevens Co. is running full time, and pretty soon it expects to increase its capital. Ninety per cent. of the goods turned out this time of the year is tan.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 7.—Mrs. Daisy Grace, who was indicted by the grand jury here on a charge of shooting her husband, Eugene Grace, collapsed in her cell at an early hour this morning. The county physician said she was in a serious nervous condition.

The husband of Mrs. Grace is at the home of his mother at Newsum, Conn., still in a critical condition. This is the result of a bullet which he reportedly has charged was inflicted by his wife.

ROOSEVELT AND CLARK WINNERS IN MARYLAND

President Taft's Supporters Given Big Surprise in the Primaries Held Yesterday

BALTIMORE, May 7.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt and Speaker Champ Clark carried Maryland yesterday in the first presidential preference primary ever held in this state.

Of the 129 votes in the state conventions, which elect delegates to the national convention, Roosevelt will get 66, or one more than the number necessary to a choice, and Clark will get 77 votes.

Each of the two successful candidates will carry into the republican and democratic national conventions, respectively, Maryland's vote of 16.

Roosevelt made a clean sweep of every one of the four legislative districts in Baltimore.

President Taft won out in only one of the 24 wards of the city, and then only by the narrow margin of six votes.

Roosevelt's majority in Baltimore city, which contains one-half the voting population of the state, was 5000.

Delegates to the state conventions are selected on the county unit basis, Baltimore being allowed but 28 out of the 122.

Champ Clark's victory in Baltimore city was a landslide. He carried all the legislative districts with a popular majority of about 12,300.

Wilson and Harmon, the only other democrats in the race, polled 3300 and 3100 respectively. Of the counties outside Baltimore city Roosevelt carried six, Taft nine, Clark 12, Wilson 10, and Harmon one.

The votes of the delegates to the state conventions will be: Republican—Roosevelt, 66; Taft, 65; Democratic—Clark, 77; Harmon, 10; Wilson, 45.

In Baltimore city the voting was extremely light, only about half the affiliated republicans and democrats going to the polls.

Roosevelt's victory, particularly in the city, was a surprise.

Clark's victory was a surprise to many of his supporters.

The result of the election was a surprise to many of the voters.

The national delegates, however, are only required to vote for Roosevelt and Clark on the first ballot, or "as long thereafter as their consciences dictate."

The monetary loss is estimated at $2000, fully insured.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Yesterday afternoon and evening at the Opera House marked the opening of the spring and summer season at this popular theatre of photo-plays and songs that are to be presented there during the next seventeen weeks. The pictures are being presented under the direction of Messrs. Herbert and Dorflinger, who have had wide experience in this style of popular entertainment and who must certainly feel encouraged by the success of the opening day. The pictures shown are the newest prints from the principal manufacturers and are some of the clearest and best pictures ever seen in Lowell. The subjects shown yesterday included scenic, comedy and fine dramatic subjects that were very much enjoyed by the large audience present and included "Twist Love and War" and "The Red Man's Honor" two fine dramatic subjects, "Blinks and Links Attorneys," a very laughable comedy reel, "A College Girl," "Scenes from Genoa," and other good subjects. One of the features of the entertainment that made a big hit was the Manhattan quartet composed of Messrs. Arthur Bradley, Carl Falk, John Lambert, and Joseph Lord, who sang several selections in a manner that won generous applause and several encores. The current program will be repeated today and tomorrow afternoon and evening. Thursday afternoon and for the remainder of the week there will be an entire change of program, both pictures and songs, and Sunday a complete new program will be given. Prices are five and ten cents both afternoon and evening. Friday night of each week a big amateur contest will be given and a big list of amateurs have been booked for this week.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

One of the latest and biggest mirth producing attractions working in conjunction with the vaudeville show, will this evening be presented at the Academy of Music and is entitled "The Country Grocery Store." Bill Looney is to have the position of chief salesman and he predicts that when he gets through with the store there will not be enough left to furnish a meal for a sparrow. At the beginning of the festivities, however, the place will be well stocked with provisions, and it is his aim to dispose of them to people in the audience. As the chances of selling such things as baking-powder, macaroni, tea, coffee, eggs, etc., are rather remote, it is his intention to give them away and no doubt considerable fun will be gathered from his method of distribution. The regular big show will be given as usual and this is simply an added attraction. Next week, watch out for "The Hottest Coon in Dixie," the greatest aggregation of minstrel men that ever toured. Band concerts, parades and everything to start things like old times.

THEATRE VOYONS

Two of the most popular kinds of pictures shown today are western subjects and biograph comedies. Both are on the bill at the Theatre Voyons today. The western subject "Sheriff Jim's Last Shot," tells of the way a western officer of the law laid down his life in the performance of his duty and it is told in so dramatic a way that the lover of the sensational and the lover of the strongly dramatic will both be pleased. This picture was photographed in Colorado amid some of the grandest scenery in the world and is an absolutely correct picture of western life. The biograph comedy, a long satirical laugh, is funny, novel, clean and interesting in every scene.

FAMOUS KAUFFMAN TROUPE APPEARING AT KEITH'S.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

Even the best of things can't last forever and hence the best thing that Lowell has ever had in the vaudeville comes to a close this week when the regular Keith season will come to an end to be succeeded by the celebrated Keith summer schedule. In order to send his patrons away with fragrant memories of the winter season, Manager Stevens took special pains to secure and extraordinarily strong bill for closing week and that he succeeded was evidenced last evening when a fair-sized audience fairly ate up the bill. Girls and music are the features of this week and there's some girls and some music. The music is out of the usual inasmuch as it is featured by one performer on the xylophone and by another on the humble concertina. The mere mention of the much-abused concertina may bring back to some neighborhood memories of "Blue Bells of Scotland." "Home Sweet Home," with an infinite variety of "blue notes" was around out at all hours of the day and night by an indefatigable beginner, but Mr. Rose, the concertina artist at Keith's this week, demonstrates the possibilities of the instrument in strikingly beautiful manner with such selections as "Poet and Peasant," and "Faust" along with popular music.

But to start with the girls. The Kauffman troupe of six fair women bicycle riders, is the finest aggregation of like performers ever witnessed in Lowell. They work singly, in groups and ensembles while one of their number does a stunt that alone is worth the price of admission. While pedaling around the stage she jumps into the air turns completely around and lands back on the wheel while it is in motion.

The Melody Lane Girls are a fine quartet of good singers. Most female quartets go shy on contraltos, but not so with the Melody Lane girls, for Miss Laura Hiner, the contralto singer, is the hit of this quartet. She possesses a profoundly deep but clear and beautiful voice. The others are Miss Melaine Miller, soprano; Miss Elinor Elliott, mezzo-soprano; Miss Adlyn Estee, alto, and Miss Baer, contralto. Each is a soloist with a good voice and in addition to their musical ability all are of comely features and most graceful stage presence, while their gowns are in keeping with their general excellences.

"Swat" Milligan, the baseball hero of the East Side, had all the fans on edge for he saved the day between the Giants and the Athletics in a world's series game. The fun takes place outside of the New York grounds with "M. E." a messenger boy and "E. E. M." a little girl who is a "nut" on the game fighting for a knothole. In the fence, they describe each play in the choicest of base ball lingo amid an environment of ash barrels, broken down wheelers and other truck which every small boy who ever peeped through a knothole has experienced. The Giants are battling like a lot of wooden men and it looks bad for them when "E. E. M." suggest that they get "Swat" Milligan, the champion batter of the "Poison Oaks." As luck would have it who comes along but "Swat" himself in baseball uniform and carrying a bat that resembles a telegraph pole. "Swat" who is about seven feet tall enters the grounds and gets into the game and he bats the ball over the fence and wins the day. Meanwhile along comes an Englishman who knows as much about a ball game as he does about bull game slang and the efforts of the two kids to explain the game to him are unreasonably funny. Vienna Bolton, a sprightly little miss presents "E. E. M." the daughter of the East Side, in capital manner, which Billy Carey made a big hit as the messenger boy. Frank Hanna, a veritable giant was "Swat" Milligan and Hank Wilson was all right as the Englishman. No fan can afford to miss this comedy.

Rose and Montrose, who were referred to above as exponents of the concertina and piano have positively one of the prettiest acts seen here in a long time. While Mr. Rose is a "mister," you'd never know it, because he makes-up as a little girl of the nursery age, as does Miss Montrose. The scene opens in a nursery with Rose in his trundle bed. After their nursery act in which Miss Montrose sings and dances gracefully she goes to the piano and he to the concertina and then comes a treat.

The Wartenburg brothers are foot jugglers par excellence and they have it on the Japs inasmuch as they play stringed instruments while juggling. Laurence Gordon and Olive Wartenburg present a realistic comedy entitled "Going Back to Mother."

Jack Murphy with his elongated xylophone and a variety of sticks gives everything from opera to rag-time and was one of the big hits on the bill. He certainly gets music out of the instrument.

Niblo and Reilly are black face comedians and dancers and Mr. Niblo is one of the funniest grotesque dancers ever seen on a local stage.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

An excellent bill is being given this week at the Merrimack Square theatre. It is headed by the famous "Temple Players," who although at this popular house but a few weeks, are favorably known all over town.

The audience at both performances yesterday was very large, and the players were well received. The number presented by the Temple Players entitled "Popular Week" is extraordinarily good and consists of bright, snappy musical comedy. It is a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment and has to be seen and heard to be appreciated to its fullest extent. Some of the best musical hits of the season are given in a very creditable manner, and the act closes with the most popular song, "My Aviation Girl." This is given by the entire company, and each member of the cast appears inside of an aeroplane arrangement, while a couple are perched in a bird-like machine that is suspended from the flies. The stage is darkened and small searchlights cast sharp rays of light.

Another very enjoyable number is that presented by the Miss Lucille Spindley, Charles Crymble company, entitled "An Object Lesson." The sketch is cleverly written and contains much wit. It deals with a young wife who seems to be a former girl friend. The sketch is right and proper to attend the theatres with a former sweetheart of hers, but who takes exceptions to her husband's actions when he endeavors to duplicate the same performance with a former girl friend. The parts are very well rendered and the sketch throughout is very amusing.

Leo Whalen, known as a polite entertainer, sings a few songs and has a lot of funny sayings. He is clever, Panietto, contortionist, gives a marvelous exhibition of twisting his body into extraordinary postures.

The photo-plays for the week are especially interesting. The manufacture of Manila hemp or abaca, as it is known in the islands of the Philippines where it comes from, is one of the many pleasing picture portrayals shown. These to be given during the last three days of the week include Pathe's Weekly, "Old Actors," a Biograph production, and "According to Law," a comedy offering by Selig.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED BY THE WOMEN'S CLUB

The Annual Meeting Brought Out a Large Attendance of Members

The annual meeting of the Middlesex Women's club was held yesterday and Miss Grace Ward was elected president to succeed Mrs. Henry A. Smith. Miss Ward was unanimously elected, together with the rest of the official ballot, which was as follows:

President, Miss Grace Ward; vice-presidents, Mrs. Agnes Peabody Eaton, Miss Gertrude A. Roddick, Mrs. Lillie A. Spaulding; recording secretary, Mrs. Carrie F. Harris; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Annie K. Greene; treasurer, Mrs. Annie B. Robertson; chairman of finance, Mrs. Emma F. Thompson; directors, Mrs. Sophie M. Dumas, Miss Martina A. Gage, Miss Bessie B. Hadley.

The annual report of the recording secretary, Mrs. Carrie F. Harris, was read and accepted; also the reports of the treasurer, Mrs. Annie B. Robertson, and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Annie K. Greene.

The report of the retiring president, Mrs. Henry A. Smith, contained some very interesting facts. Referring to the club's interest in the industrial school the report states:

"There is no doubt but that the most far-reaching and permanent effort of the club during the year, has been to aid in the establishment of our industrial school, which is maintained by the city and state. It has been said that Lowell is in the forefront with one of the best, if not the very best, of the schools in the state. It has already proved the necessity of its creation by outgrowing its present quarters in all departments."

The committee appointed from our club and composed by the council has made several visits to the school, and we heard a very complete report of the work being done there at a class meeting of the education department.

Saving Their Pennies

The sub-committee on penny savings has a most gratifying report. All the grammar schools now have the system of school savings, and six of the primary schools have adopted it since the fall of 1911.

Since the first school undertook the work, 75 per cent. of the pupils in the twenty schools have become depositors and the total savings amount to $19,826.23. Only a small proportion of this has been withdrawn and then later re-deposited. Isn't it worth while to expend time and effort when such splendid results may be obtained in teaching our boys and girls thrift and self-control.

Legislative Matters

"In legislative matters the club has followed the lines suggested by the state federation. Through its committee it has supported five bills of the state legislature and one of the national legislature. The power of the clubs throughout the state and the nation is well recognized by our senators and representatives."

"The Consumers' league of Massachusetts, at the suggestion of the state federation, has been making an investigation into the condition of the bakeries in different cities."

"The purpose has been to establish a white list of bakeries, which requires reasonable cleanliness and sanitary surroundings—throughout the state. Such an investigation has been going on in our city in co-operation with the local board of health."

"Our club was asked to assist, and already two tours have been made. The investigation has shown a fairly cordial reception, and on the part of the better bakeries a very earnest desire to be on the published 'white list.' The league takes all responsibility of decisions."

"It reports that our local inspectors are doing good work, and that conditions compare fairly well with those in most cities. Some three or four visits will be necessary before the list is published next fall."

"Three years ago our club was appealed to by the park commission to assist in the playground work, by looking after the girls, who congregated in large numbers."

"We responded to its appeal, and each year since, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy and her committee have had the work for girls under their care. It is a fact that the playground for the girls would not have materialized if this committee had not taken the matter in hand."

Delegates Elected

Notice was given of the annual meeting of the state federation, to be held in Templeton, June 4 and 5. The following were elected delegates to represent the club at that meeting: Mrs. Mary E. Smith, Mrs. Annie B. Robertson, Miss Grace Ward, Mrs. E. G. Dumas, Mrs. Lillie A. Spaulding, Mrs. A. H. Forrest, Mrs. Carrie F. Harris.

Miss Grace Ward, Mrs. Corwin and Mrs. Forrest were chosen delegates to represent the club at the general federation biennial meeting in June, in San Francisco.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Hannah Dalley observed the 50th anniversary of her birth at her home, 23 Marshall street, yesterday. Mrs. Dalley does not go corresponding with the advance of time and her cheerful and exemplary life is a model for good in the community. There was a violin and piano duet by Daniel Scanlan and Agnes McKennedy; piano and mandolin duet, Teresa and Ray Mealey; vocal solos, Hazel Sullivan, Leo Sullivan, Elias Mealey; piano duet, Joseph and John Dalley. Refreshments were served. Mrs. David Scanlan and Miss Catherine Dalley poured. Mrs. Dalley received a number of valuable and useful gifts. All departed for their homes wishing her many happy birthdays.

Ten Thousand Suffragettes Who Marched in New York Expect Success in Other States

NEW YORK, May 7.—The ten thousand advocates of "votes for women" who paraded up Fifth avenue Saturday while perhaps half a million onlookers watched them believe that the showing they made will not only advance their cause in this state, but they think that it will have a similar effect in other states where the struggle for equal suffrage is in progress. The paraders were led by a company of women mounted on spirited horses, and among the paraders were women so old and feeble that they rode in carriages and children so young that they were pushed in perambulators by older enthusiasts. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont led one division, walking alone. There was some attempt at uniformity in the matter of dress, white predominating, and the official hat, a straw affair which cost 37 cents, was frequently seen.

MAN TIRED OF LIFE Jumped From Brooklyn Bridge Today

NEW YORK, May 7.—Charles McFarland, a chauffeur, slipped by the police guard on the roadway of Brooklyn bridge early today and when he reached the middle of the span plunged over the rail into the water, 135 feet below. A tugboat headed to ward the spot where the bridge jumper had disappeared and a minute later the unconscious body came to the surface. McFarland was hauled aboard the tug and brought ashore. His shoulder was fractured and he suffered from internal injuries. He may recover, McFarland said he was tired of life.

DEATHS

DALEY.—William P. Daley, aged 19 years, a well known young man of West Centralville, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his parents, Patrick H. and Helen Daley, 131 Lilley avenue. He is survived by his parents, two sisters, the Misses Helen and Alice and five brothers, Leo, George, John, Raymond and Charles Daley. Deceased was the son of the well known Broadway grocer.

THREE UNDER ARREST

Held in Connection With Poisoning of Man

AUGUSTA, Me., May 7.—Alexander J. Turner, the veteran janitor of headquarters at the National Soldiers Home at Togus, came to his death by being drugged in this city April 23, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury returned last night.

The final jury session of four days was held yesterday, following the receipt of the report on the organs of Turner from Bowdoin college, where the contents had been analyzed.

Coroner Frank Hewins has been engaged on the case ever since the tragedy. William G. Moody was foreman of the jury, the others being Everett M. Mower, Fred R. Fife, Hiram A. Stebbins, Arthur H. Kraus and Eugene Taylor.

Fred W. Levere, at whose home at 10 Willow street it is alleged Turner was drugged, is charged with being one of the principals. The other alleged principal is Henry Gazette.

Levere, his wife, who is charged with being an accessory and Gazette are all in jail awaiting the continuation of a hearing on charges of robbery in connection with the alleged riding of Turner's clothing.

At the resumption of the hearing on Wednesday, County Atty. Joseph W. Hanson will have the charges in the warrants changed to murder.

ELDERLY FOLKS! CALOMEL, SALTS AND CATHARTICS AREN'T FOR YOU

"Syrup of Figs" is best to cleanse your stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, gases and clogged-up waste.

You old people, Syrup of Figs is particularly for you. You who don't exercise as much as you need to, who like the easy chair. You, whose steps are slow and whose muscles are less elastic. You must realize that your liver and ten yards of bowels have also become less active.

Don't regard Syrup of Figs as physic. It stimulates the liver and bowels just as exercise would do if you took enough of it. It is not harsh like salts or cathartics. The help which Syrup of Figs gives to a torpid liver and weak, sluggish bowels is harmless, natural and gentle.

When eyes grow dim, you help them. Do the same with your liver and bowels when age makes them less active. There is nothing more important. Cystitis, clogged-up bowels mean that, if you eat, the pores or ducts in the thirty feet of bowels suck this decaying waste and poisons into the blood. You will never get feeling right until this is corrected—but do it gently. Don't have a "bowel washday;" don't use a bowel irritant. For your sake, please use only gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Then you are not "drugging yourself," for Syrup of Figs is composed of only luscious figs, senna and aromatics which can not injure.

A teaspoonful tonight will gently, but thoroughly, move on and out of your system by morning all the sour bile, poisonous fermenting food and clogged-up waste matter without griping, nausea or weakness.

But get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with contempt, any other Fig Syrup unless it bears the name—prepared by the California Fig Syrup company. Read the label.

SOME IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

There is a good deal of discussion at the present time as to the effect of the great influx of immigration. There are alarmists who cry out against it as a serious menace to our country, but this immigration is the very thing that has built up this American nation to its present proportions. It is true that the class of immigrants coming to this country today is not as good as that which came here twenty-five years ago or earlier. While the country is speculating as to the danger of this undirected influx of immigrants, the chief danger, in our opinion, is the mistake of permitting foreigners to flock into factory cities in numbers far too great to be accommodated by the capacity of the local industries. When these men, after coming here with high hopes of prosperous conditions, find the very reverse they naturally become exasperated and in that mood will do things that they otherwise would not think of doing. When the immigrants arrive here they are not the wards of the nation, so that the federal government does not feel warranted in directing them to any particular part of the country. Consequently they scatter where they please among the different states, usually congregating in large colonies in one place.

It is a fact worthy of consideration that other governments direct and control their immigration, sending it to the districts where immigrant labor is needed in farming or in building railroads. Under the constitution the federal government has regarded this outside its functions; but it could have the states put in requisitions for a certain number of immigrants from this or that country and through the immigration agencies at foreign ports, these could be supplied. Moreover, it is the duty of the federal government to give accurate information to intending immigrants to prevent their being imposed upon by agents or sharks of any kind. Thousands of immigrants have been lured here under false representation of conditions and promises of wages that could never be realized. It was thus that many of the immigrants who recently caused trouble in Lawrence were induced to leave their homes in Europe.

That immigrants are permitted to settle in any particular place in larger numbers than can be accommodated by employment is the fault of the federal authorities. That they are allowed to remain many of them illiterate without any effort to enlighten them in regard to local conditions, our laws and our institutions is our fault, not theirs.

Lowell and other cities do much for the foreign elements through evening schools. Our evening school system has 82 rooms with 120 teachers at the opening of the term and 82 at close. The average number belonging was 3401. The attendance was made up of pupils who can read and write in English and those compelled by law to attend who are illiterate in English. Our evening schools do good work for the foreigners, but some cities maintain schools in the day time also for foreign born minds. Most of the foreigners who are unable to speak English are anxious to learn and acquire the rudiments of the language in a remarkably short space of time.

The local mill operatives require a preparatory school of citizenship, a school in which they can learn something of our history, our form of government, our institutions and the method by which they can get naturalized. An evening school of this character would do a great deal of good, for there are thousands of foreigners anxious for an opportunity to acquire the knowledge necessary to the acquisition of citizenship.

There is altogether too much gratuitous assumption that the foreigners coming here have had no religious training. Many of them though ignorant in other respects have deep religious faith and are astonished on coming to this country to find the spirit of irreligion that prevails.

The failure to look up the antecedents of intending immigrants is responsible for the importation of many bad characters and the lack of proper preparation for American citizenship after their arrival here, leaves many of them a prey to the schemes of designing leaders in dangerous or even criminal societies. That explains why so many immigrants are led to set themselves in opposition to lawfully constituted authority.

STEERAGE PASSENGERS NEGLECTED

The story of the Titanic disaster as told in the investigation at Washington shows very conclusively that there is too little regard for the steerage passengers in case of danger. When the accident occurred there was an effort to keep the steerage passengers in the dark as to the nature of the damage to the vessel. The officers evidently feared that if the steerage passengers realized the danger they would create a panic. Hereafter the majority who travel by steerage will have to be protected as well as those who occupy the palatial suites of the first and second cabins.

The B. F. Keith theatrical combine is one of the kind that makes for better productions, not the contrary. With Keith, it seems, excellence alone is the watchword. That is what the people want. Mr. Keith's specialty is vaudeville, but the legitimate drama still lives and must not be banished. It seems that should Mr. Keith devote some attention to its revival he could accomplish great results.

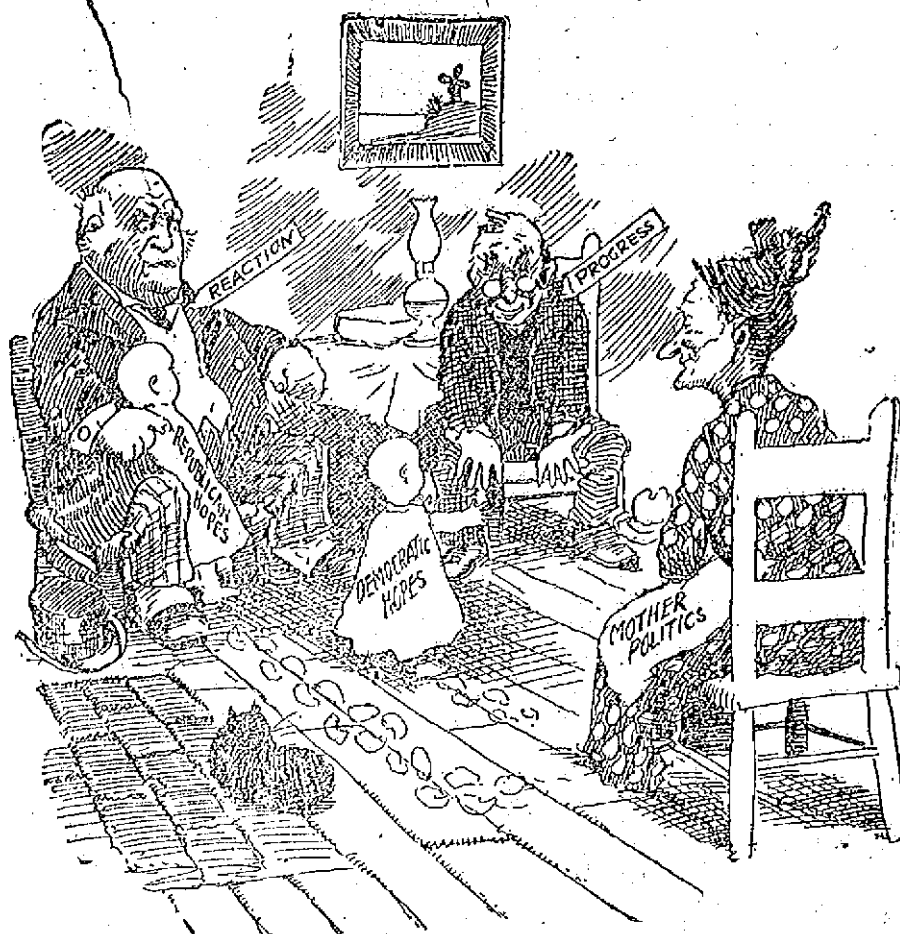

We have now reached a condition in which industrial peace may be said to prevail, and it is of interest to all concerned to keep it so. The building and general business prospects for the season are very good. It is time Lowell took a bound forward, and this she can do if we stop the labor fights and get to work.

When we read of the wild rampage of the Mississippi do we not feel somewhat grateful to the quiet and innocuous Merrimack flowing serenely undisturbed in her channel to the sea?

The explosion at Hazardville, Conn., yesterday was a reminder of the South Lowell explosion in July, 1903, but the disaster was not so serious.

The question of whether we have or have not the $19,000 set apart for a public hall should be settled beyond question.

Let us hope that no new mill strike will be worked up out of any petty little grievance by little groups of employees.

JUST TAKES TO HIM NATURALLY

"The persistency with which children see in a false some other world than the one which it is intended that they shall see is often distressing," remarks a Philadelphia instructor of the young. "I had recited to one little boy the story of the wolf and the lamb, and had followed it up with the remark: 'And now you see, Tommy, that the lamb would not have been eaten by the wolf if he had been good and sensible.' 'Yes, I understand,' said Tommy. 'If the lamb had been good and sensible he should have had him to eat.'"

The Rev. Anna H. Shaw told, at a recent equal suffrage convention, a witty little story that requires neither preface nor comment. "When I was studying theology in Boston," said Doctor Shaw, "our professor explained that when we said 'all the world,' we should spread our arms wide in an expansive gesture, indicating the largeness of the world. Then the good man hesitated, looked at me—I was the only woman in the class—and added: 'Of course a lady would not be expected to gesticulate like a man. A lady would gesticulate from the elbows.'"

It was in a suburban inn on one of the near-zero nights last winter and a glorious fire was roaring up the chimney from the open fireplace. A half-dozen men were pre-empting the space in front of the blaze and it happened that all were lawyers. A physician came in, shivering. He knew the lawyers, but not one offered him a chance at the fire. One of them said:

"Doctor, we were just talking about foreign parts. I was remarking to my friends that you had probably seen as much of the world as any man in this country."

"Well, yes," said the doctor. "I have been in every country in Europe, in China, Japan, Egypt—pretty much everywhere anybody goes."

"Ever been in blades?" put in a facetious limb of the law.

"O, yes."

"How did you find things there?"

"Well, pretty much the same as here—all lawyers close to the fire."

Joseph E. Widener, at a dinner in Philadelphia, was congratulated on his father's unique and magnificent gallery of pictures.

"Yes," said Mr. Widener, "my father is a connoisseur, a true connoisseur. I don't use the word 'connoisseur' either as the great painter used it."

"A great painter, you know, was asked by his little son:

"Father, what is a connoisseur?"

"Well, my son, the father answered, 'did you notice that tall, white-haired gentleman at my studio last yesterday?'"

"The one with the white-lined overcoat, father?" O, yes, I noticed him."

"Well, my son, he's a connoisseur."

"But how do you know he's a connoisseur, father?"

"By his actions, my son."

"But, father, he acted like everyone else at the tea, didn't he?"

"Certainly not, my boy! Certainly not! The others drank my Russian tea and my little-grass sandwiches and took leave. But he—he bought a picture!"

CHASING THE GLOOM.

It looked as though 'twas going to be a rather gloomy day for me;

And when at noon I started out I'm almost sure I was a fount.

I had no reason to be sad, but still, somehow, I wasn't glad.

My head was down, my pace was slow, Then some one shouted out: "Hello!"

A friend came up and slapped my back And yanked me off the gloomy track;

He grabbed my hand, and then began To talk as only good folks can.

He walked a mile or two with me, Then, somehow, I began to see

That all the clouds that loomed so gray Had suddenly been blown away.

It seemed to me, wherever I went I found new cause to be content;

The burdens I had thought so great Seemed to be quickly losing weight.

And everywhere I turned it seemed Some friendly face upon me beamed;

Someone with cheerful words to say Robbed up to chase the gloom away.

Where I expected discontent I reaped but sweet encouragement;

The letters on my desk were fraught With messages of kindly thought.

And long before the stroke of noon I started in to hum a tune;

And when at night I went to bed, I've had a glorious day," I said.

LOCAL AUTO DEALERS REPORT INCREASED SALES

A Stricter Enforcement of Traffic Laws in This City is Urged by Citizens

There was a decided increase in the sales of automobiles through the local agencies during the past week and the different dealers also report an increase in the amount of sales of accessories and plenty of repair work.

The Traffic Laws

There should be a stricter enforcement of the traffic laws in this city for many operators of machines are very careless in passing through the local streets, especially in the center of the city, both by "cutting" corners and driving at a rate of speed which endangers the lives of pedestrians.

It might also be added that drivers of automobiles should be very careful while approaching cross streets, for within the past few days two accidents occurred, but fortunately not of a serious nature. On Sunday two machines collided at the junction of Moody and Aiken streets. One machine was passing along Moody street and the other along Aiken and they collided. Yesterday an automobile which was driven along Smith street came in contact with an electric car in Branch street.

The Oakland Car

Morris Cohen of Suffolk street has purchased a model 30 Oakland touring car and James J. Dolan of Concord street has purchased an Oakland sociable roadster through the agency of the Moody Bridge company.

John Healy, the well known tailor will soon be seen in a nifty model 40 Oakland touring car which he recently purchased at the Moody bridge garage. George Fairburn also purchased a car through the same agency.

Mr. Arthur Cummings of the Moody bridge garage has sold a model 30 Oakland to Ferdinand Sandow of Lawrence.

The Popular Ford

The Lowell motor mart has delivered a beautiful Ford town car to Joseph Albert, the well known undertaker. Mr. Arthur Gray has purchased a Ford touring car through the same agency. Mr. Stephen Rochette, the proprietor of the mart, has found business extraordinarily good this year and it is expected that at the close of the season there will be about twice as many Ford cars in Lowell as there are at the present time.

The Silent Buick

During the past week eight Buick pleasure cars and one Buick truck were sold through the agency of the Lowell Automobile corporation in Appleton street during the past week. Inasmuch as this corporation has an excellent show room with plenty of window space and as the people know the excellent work of the car during the past several years the machines meet with ready sale.

International Truck

Ervin E. Smith company 45-47-49 Market street have been demonstrating the new model, M. W. Inter. water cooled truck the past week. They have already sold trucks to F. W. Park, of Cheshamford, R. A. Davis of Rock street, the Standard Hotelling company, H. G. Watts company of Billerica, Walter A. Andrews the Dracut milkman. These trucks are giving excellent satisfaction and there is no truck in the market that has as great a carrying capacity for the price.

"I am still sticking to my three Rs," said George F. White, to a representative of this paper when he called at Mr. White's garage in Middlesex street today. What he meant by putting his reply in this manner to the question as to the "how" of business puzzled the representative of The Sun for a while, but, before the mind of the representative had got thoroughly into operation, to work out the enigma, Mr. White explained his reply in this way. He said: "When I went to school, my teacher impressed upon my mind the value of perfecting myself in the three Rs of the curriculum, but at that time, I had no idea that in after life when I would embark in business, that three Rs, which are diametrically opposite to the three taught me in school would bring me my livelihood. Such however is the case for with the Reo and the Rambler which constitute two of the three, I am making a good impression in the automobile business in this city and adjacent towns, and the final R is of the first letter of the word 'rushing' which expresses properly the condition of business, with me as you may see by these sales closed the past week. He handed the writer a slip containing the following names: Model R. Reos, were sold to C. E. Chambers, the Middlesex street merchant; O. J. Smith of Lawrence; H. C. Shackleton of Lawrence, and R. O. Sandford of Billerica. Dr. O. V. Wells, who has been a Reo enthusiast for several years, buys a Model S.

Data concerning the wonderful showing made by the Reo against higher powered and higher priced cars in the tests made last month in Fresno, Cal., can be had from Mr. White. The Reo certainly proved its worth in the accounts of the tests as published in the Fresno papers can be taken as a criterion.

THE INTERNATIONAL SWEEPSTAKES AT THE INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY

TEDDY TETZLOFF IN HIS FIAT

Anderson and Tetzloff Among the Prominent Entries and Are Looked Upon as Among Winners of $50,000 Purse

Two of the most formidable entries in the second annual 500-mile international sweepstakes race to be run at the Indianapolis motor speedway next Memorial Day, are Gil Anderson in his Stutz racing car, and Teddy Tetzloff, the Pacific coast driver, in his Italian

Fiat. These two cars have been listed among the winners in some of the biggest events in the past racing season, and are looked upon as sure to be in the $50,000 purse at the speedway. The Stutz car is an American product built in Indianapolis while the Fiat is built in Turin, Italy; either, however, is capable of making more than one hundred miles per hour. Both drivers have a long list of victories to their credit and have national reputations.

MANY MOTORISTS PLANNING TRANS- CONTINENTAL TOURS

A most important step in the movement to construct a great national highway across the American continent was taken last week when the National Old Trails Ocean to Ocean Highway association was formally launched at an enthusiastic convention held in Kansas City at which many delegates were in attendance from the states through which it is planned the highway will pass.

The route will include almost every city of importance from New York to San Francisco, every mile of which has been charted by the pathfinders of the Touring club of America who made a nine thousand mile circuitous tour of the United States under the auspices of the office of public roads, department of agriculture at Washington, D. C.

Starting from New York the highway will go westward through Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Wheeling, Columbus, Indianapolis, Terre Haute, St. Louis, Kansas City, Emporia, La Junta, Albuquerque, Phoenix, San Diego, Los Angeles to San Francisco.

At the Kansas City convention plans were formulated for the making and marking of a permanent transcontinental highway following as near as practicable the routes known as the Cumberland pike, the Boon's Lick road, the Santa Fe trail and the Trail to Sunset. This route, not only included most of the important sightseeing regions, but also keeps to historic paths forming the most remarkable scenic highways ever opened to the motor tourist.

road and the Santa Fe trail, from there it follows the line of march of General Kearney's army into Columbus passing through the wonders of the southwest, the Indian Pueblos and the Grand Canyon.

The important bearing which the Touring club's path-finding tours have had upon road improvement throughout the west is reflected not only in the organization of the Ocean to Ocean Highway association and other similar organizations having for their like purpose the construction of new transcontinental routes for automobilists, but is further evidenced in the wonderful strides in road building which is manifest in other states some of which lie between the routes which have been selected during the past two years by the club's representatives.

Good for the manufacturer because it shows him wherein he has succeeded or failed. Good for the buyer because it gives him his cue for the best values. Our experience has guided us to the race track rather than the tour because we found that in touring there may be several so-called perfect scores, and several cars may be for first honors that had to be decided by drawing lots. "Touring is not as strenuous as racing in our estimation. Racing requires the real brand of sportsmanship that always evolves only one winner. The rest always lose. Only one car can be shown superior in a race. Racing is more severe, it calls for more strain, more wear and upon every ounce of power and every fibre of strength of the car. One race of 200 miles at terrific sustained speed will tell more of a car's true merits than ordinary touring of a thousand miles.

"The race offers a more convincing test; besides it has more attractiveness to the public. The largest paid admission to any sporting event in the history of the world was to see an automobile race. To race the car must qualify. For example, in one race we are entered in the cars must show a speed of seventy-five miles an hour for two and a half miles before they can start in the event. This eliminates all except worthy foes, and victory from such a field is more of an honor. In a tour any car that can run is able to qualify.

"Next to the race, perhaps, comes the hill climb. Then comes touring. It is a fact that a successful car in racing and hill climbing is also able to conquer the less strenuous task of touring. Both racing and touring have given an impetus to the efforts to procure better roads. Tours have been followed by county commissioners surveying and planning better highways. Likewise with road races, Elgin, Ill.; Savannah, Ga.; Santa Monica, Cal., and other centers have improved their roads due to the interest taken in the automobile events.

"After all is said and done, the way to judge a car is in comparison under rigid competition. We believe that races give the most severe test; therefore we do not shrink from tackling the hardest job."
